PRESS BOX

Michigan State's Fred W. Stabley Press Box, dedicated in November 1980 to honor MSU's longtime sports information director, is located on the west side of Spartan Stadium and can be reached from Shaw Lane, an east-west campus thoroughfare south of the Stadium. The top three decks of the structure look out into the stadium. The levels include a radio deck with booths for three radio originations and a television camera platform, a press deck with seats for 90 writers and a broadcast location for national telecasts. Reminder: No cheering is allowed in the press box.

WORKING CREDENTIALS

Arrangements for media credentials for Michigan State's seven home football games in 2003 must be placed with Assistant Athletics Director John Lewandowski in writing on company letterhead at least two weeks prior to the game in question. Priority for the issuance of credentials will be given to daily newspapers and television stations which cover MSU football on a regular basis. All other credentials for print media are issued on basis of circulation. Upon acceptance of application, appropriate credentials are mailed out or held for pickup at the Media Will-Call at the ground-level entrance to the press box. All members of the media picking up credentials at Spartan Stadium will be required to provide photo identification and the name must match the one listed on the credential. Working press tickets contain specific seat locations. Reporters requiring exclusive phone service should have their own lines and instruments installed. Others may use a limited number of telephones on a first-come, first-served basis.

PRO SCOUTS

As per Big Ten Conference regulations, Michigan State does not provide press box access or media credentials for professional scouts. However, scouts may purchase single-game tickets for Spartan home games through the MSU Football Office at (517) 355-1647.

ROAD GAME CREDENTIALS

Writers covering the Spartans on a regular basis may request media credentials for road games through the MSU Sports Information Office. Credential requests are faxed to opponent SIDs on Mondays two weeks prior to the game.

PHONE LINES

An adequate number of phone lines and phone instruments are available, but media members needing to order their own lines should contact Ameritech (800) 321-8152. Those ordering personal phones should provide Ameritech with the following street address for installation, One Michigan State University. To use existing lines, dial 8-0-area code-number. For toll free numbers, dial 8-1-800-number. Only collect, toll free and credit card calls are accepted.

RADIO

Each originating broadcasting station will be issued five booth tickets. Spotters' tickets must come from this allotment. Home team spotters are provided on advance notice only, and visiting team spotters must be arranged with visitors.

Only local radio stations with a full-time sports director conducting a daily sports show receive consideration for credentials. A post-game report service will be available from a sports information staffer after each home game at no charge.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Field passes are issued on the basis of circulation with priority granted to media agencies covering the participating schools on a regular basis. Photographers may work from either sideline (except in the team area) and beyond both end zones. Press box photo passes for assigned locations are issued to television station crews. A maximum of three working tickets is allowed per TV station. Note: With the return of natural grass in Spartan Stadium, field access is limited to still photographers, camera operators and sideline reporters for "live" radio/TV network coverage.

MSU follows the guidelines established by the NCAA Communications Committee regarding sideline control, which ensure the sideline is a working press area. The following guidelines are adhered to:

1 - Each photographer is required to wear an armband at all times.
2 - Armbands must be secured at the photographer's credential pickup.
3 - After kickoff, no photographers are permitted in the bench area, on the playing field, or in the 12-foot area between the limit line and sideline.
4 - Cutline writers, messengers and equipment carriers are not permitted in the sideline armband area.
5 - Tripods are not permitted in the sideline armband area.

MEDIA PARKING

Media parking passes are available for $15 per game and $105 for the 2003 season (seven home games). The designated lots for media parking are all within easy walking distance of Spartan Stadium. Media parking passes will be assigned by the MSU Sports Information Department. Priority for lot assignment will be given to daily newspapers and TV stations that cover Spartan football on a regular basis. All other media parking will be issued on the basis of circulation or market size (TV/radio). Additional parking fees are required to accommodate TV satellite trucks and "live" radio remotes.

STATISTICAL SERVICES

Prior to kickoff, all media members will be provided a game program, updated game notes from both teams, a flip card and other pertinent information. Last-minute line-up changes, pregame weather conditions and other information will be relayed through the internal public address system. During the game, media members will be provided with a running play by play, while at halftime, quickie stats will be distributed. Following the game, a complete post-game stats package will be available in the press box and will contain a scoring summary, final team statistics, final individual statistics, complete play by play, drive charts, defensive statistics, player participation list, post-game quotes from both head coaches and selected players plus post-game notes.

Game notes and quotes will be posted on Michigan State's official website promptly after the conclusion of the game (www.msuspartans .com).

CAFETERIA SERVICES

Food will be sold in the cafeteria, located on the second floor of the press deck. The cafeteria will open approximately two hours before kickoff and remain open through the conclusion of halftime. Complimentary coffee and soft drinks are available throughout the game.

MSU ON THE INTERNET

Visit the official Michigan State Athletics home page on the internet at www.msuspartans.com. The site offers up-to-date information on all of MSU's 25 varsity sports, including schedules and results, player and coach biographies as well as the latest news from the MSU athletics program. Links to the NCAA, the Big Ten Conference and the 10 other Big Ten schools are also provided.

HOTEL ROOMS

Hotel rooms are booked far in advance of Michigan State home football weekends. The Michigan State Sports Information Office has set aside a limited number of rooms at local hotels for accredited media representatives. Arrangements should be made through sports information office assistant Paulette Martis at (517) 355-2271. Some area hotels require a two-night stay for Michigan State home football weekends and a valid credit card is required for reservations being made through the MSU Sports Information Office. Media members are responsible for making their own lodging arrangements when Michigan State plays on the road.

WEEKLY PRESS CONFERENCES

A weekly press conference with Spartan head coach John L. Smith and selected players will be held each Monday during the season, beginning at 11:30 a.m. at North Case Hall, located across the street from the Duffy Daugherty Football Building on the MSU campus. A lunch buffet will be served for $8. Parking is available at the metered spaces in the Case Hall parking lot and in Lot 79, the gated, pay lot, located south of Spartan Stadium, off of Shaw Lane.

WEEKLY INTERVIEWS

Interviews during the week with head coach John L. Smith or any Michigan State players should be arranged through the MSU Sports Information Office. Smith's best time for interviews is between 11 a.m.-12 noon Eastern during the week. The MSU Sports Information Office requests that all player interviews be arranged through this department and that media members not contact players in their apartments or dormitory rooms. The best time for player interviews is following practice Tuesday at approximately 6 p.m. and prior to practice Wednesday at approximately 3 p.m. All player interviews should be completed by the beginning of practice on Wednesday of game week. Please contact the MSU Sports Information Office for all player interview requests at least 24 hours in advance.

Media parking is available in Lot 79, the gated, pay lot, located south of Spartan Stadium, off of Shaw Lane.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

Media representatives may attend head coach John L. Smith's post-game press conference in the interview trailer, located outside the stadium tunnel entrance after a short post-game cooling-off period. All requested Spartan players also will be available for post-game comments in the interview trailer following Coach Smith's press conference. The lockerroom will not be open to the media. Coach Smith's comments will be hooked into an amplification system and audio feeds can be obtained through use of connector cords (either female cannon connector or a standard one-quarter inch connector). TV cameramen will be asked to set up their equipment at the back of the room. Coach Smith's postgame press conference can also be seen live on closed circuit in the press box. The visiting coach press conference, held in another trailer outside the tunnel, will be shown on a tape-delay basis following Coach Smith's press conference.

PRACTICE SCHEDULE

Tuesday practices are open to the working media for approximately 30 minutes, beginning at approximately 3:30 p.m. TV cameras and still photographers are permitted to shoot flex and the first few periods. The remainder of practice is closed.

RADIO NETWORK/SPARTAN SPORTS ZONE

All Michigan State football games will be broadcast on the Spartan Radio Network, as the MSU Department of Intercollegiate Athletics enters the second year of a three-year deal with the addition of two option years. A regionally recognized sports syndicator based in Holt, Mich., Spartan Sports Network will produce and distribute Michigan State radio broadcasts. The games can be heard throughout Michigan on the 30-affiliate network, with WJIM Radio in Lansing serving as the flagship station.

George Blaha enters his 26th season as the play-by-play announcer for Michigan State football. Blaha, who resides in Troy, Mich., is in his 28th year as the voice of the NBA's Detroit Pistons, calling games on both television and radio. The National Association of Sportswriters and Sports Broadcasters honored him as the 1998 and 2002 Michigan Sports Broadcaster of the Year. Born in Detroit, Blaha graduated from Notre Dame in 1966 with a degree in economics. While growing up in Marshalltown, Iowa, Blaha and his father attended Michigan State's first-ever Big Ten game, played at Iowa in 1953. He lists All-America halfback Sherman Lewis and former QB Charlie Baggett as his all-time favorite Spartan players.

Former Spartan quarterback Bill Burke is in his second season as a member of the broadcast team, serving as the color analyst. The four-year letterwinner (1996-1999) led MSU to the 2000 Citrus Bowl title with a 37-34 victory over Florida as a senior. The Warren, Ohio, native still holds the Spartan career record for touchdown passes with 46, and ranks among the leaders in passing yards (third with 5,463), pass completions (fourth with 416), pass attempts (third with 766) and pass completion percentage (ninth at 54.3). In addition, Burke is the only quarterback in MSU history to pass for 400 yards in one game during a 34-31 victory over Michigan in 1999.

Mike Kamin joins the Spartan Football Broadcast Team, after five years producing and serving as the broadcast host of the Central Michigan Football Radio Network. Kamin also hosts a daily statewide radio series that deals with college athletics in the state of Michigan entitled "The Michigan Sports Brief". A 1995 graduate of the University of Illinois, Kamin was a member of the Illini's 1994 Big Ten champion track and field team. He was a three-time Academic All-Big honoree.

Will Tieman returns for his fourth year on the Spartan Football Broadcast. In addition to his sideline duties, Tieman will host the post-game locker room coverage. For the 14th year, he will continue to serve as host of the syndicated series "This Week In College Football." Other football related activities this season, include: serving as the anchor of a new national college football series for the Sporting News Radio Network, serve as the play-by-play voice of the National Motor City Bowl broadcast, and will host the daily state wide series "Coach Talk" featuring MSU head football coach John L. Smith.

With the loss of 2002 Biletnikoff Award winner Charles Rogers, Agim Shabaj figures to be a key weapon in Michigan State's offensive playbook in 2003.

Michigan State Athletics Director Ron Mason knew what he wanted when he conducted a national search for a new football coach. Mason looked for a coach with a proven track record. He pursued a coach who not only consistently produced winning teams, but a coach who won championships. He also searched for a coach who had gained a reputation for turning around ailing programs.

Mason found the perfect fit for the Michigan State vacancy in veteran head coach John L. Smith, who ranks No. 14 among active NCAA I-A football coaches with 110 career wins. In 14 years as a head coach, Smith has produced six conference champions (two Conference USA, two Big West and two Big Sky) while 11 of his teams have participated in postseason play.

Smith takes over a Spartan football program at a crossroads. Michigan State has compiled a 7-17 record (.292) in Big Ten games over the last three seasons and the Spartans have made only one serious bid in the conference race (1999) since winning their last league championship in 1990.

He inherits a team that ranked No. 18 in the 2002 preseason polls but finished just 4-8 overall, 2-6 in Big Ten action.

Before taking a closer look at his 2003 Spartans, it's time to learn more about Michigan State's 23rd head football coach.

▲ John L. Smith came to Michigan State following five seasons at Louisville (1998-2002) where he led the Cardinals to unprecedented success. Smith compiled a 41-21 record, including five-straight bowl appearances and back-to-back Conference USA titles in 2000-01.

JOHN L. SMITH'S OFFENSIVE PHILOSOPHY:

"Our offense is perhaps best described as fast-break football. With the spread offense, our goal is to make our opponent defend the entire field. We want the opponent to be concerned about defending the width of the field and the vertical field. We accomplish that goal by taking a player out of the backfield and lining him up at another wide receiver position. We're going to look to throw the football first, then run it second. This approach is exactly opposite the way most coaches in the Big Ten approach things on the offensive side of the ball.

"When defenses begin to bump personnel out of the box to defend the width of the field, that's when our running game comes into play. There comes a point in every ballgame where we simply have to run it. When ahead late in the game, we're going to want to run the football to take time off the clock. If behind late in the game, we're going to need to run the football to convert the third-and-short or fourth-and-short plays. The running game helps decide the outcome of every game. We have to be able to run the football to win games. If we can't spread the defense out and do some damage running the football, then it's going to be a long day for our offense. Yes, we're going to throw the ball up and down the field, but there comes a time in every game when we're going to need to get the job done on the ground in order to win the game."

JOHN L. SMITH'S DEFENSIVE PHILOSOPHY:

"We don't subscribe to the rubber-band philosophy. We don't believe in the bend, but don't break approach to defense. That's simply not our philosophy. Our goal is to make big plays on defense. We're going to create turnovers. With an aggressive approach, we also understand that we're going to give up some big plays. This is a high risk, high reward approach to the game. We have to win the battle of big plays. We're going to allow some big plays, but if we create more big plays on defense then we're still going to end up winning the game.

"We like to be aggressive on the defensive side of the ball, especially with what we do with the guys up front. We're 4-3 in nature, but we like disguising coverages from our two-deep look. We'll play man free more than any other coverage. We're going to line up and be aggressive, normally sending five guys. Our defensive makeup is 'get after people.' We actually end up running a lot of the old 'double eagle' and 'bear' stuff that the Chicago Bears used to run. We want to force teams to have to throw the football to try to win games."

ON CHANGING ATTITUDES:

"It's crucial that our players tear off the rearview mirror. If they continue to look back, it only creates a negative image because what they see in the rearview mirror is a losing team. The players must look out the windshield and focus on the road ahead. Some of our players need a complete attitude change. They must begin believing that this team is going to win. Each player also must understand his role in making this team a winner. Our players have to realize that they're going to be expected to do what's right not only on the football field, but also in the classroom and in the community. If players do what they're supposed to do every day of the week then Saturday will take care of itself. Learning this approach will help change a lot of attitudes.

"We didn't spend a lot of time studying film from last year. We reviewed tape only to get an overview of what the team looked like offensively and defensively. We got some initial impressions of where some guys should line up, but we conducted open auditions in the spring. Every position was wide open, so every player had an opportunity to prove himself. The players have been given a clean slate, so we're finding out what they want to do with that slate.

"I really liked the attitude the team displayed in the spring. We're not going to win games this season because we're more talented than our opponents, but we're going to win games with our attitude. We have a foundation of belief that we're going to build upon."

HIS EXPECTATIONS:

"We want to challenge for the Big Ten championship every year. This year is no exception, but we have to start building a program.

"Our first goal is to send the seniors out as winners. Our second goal is to get to a bowl game. If you accomplish those two goals, then you're probably in the hunt for the league title.

"This senior class has a chance to leave its legacy by starting that tradition. The seniors have an opportunity to begin building the foundation for a championship football program."

POSITION-BY-POSITION BREAKDOWN

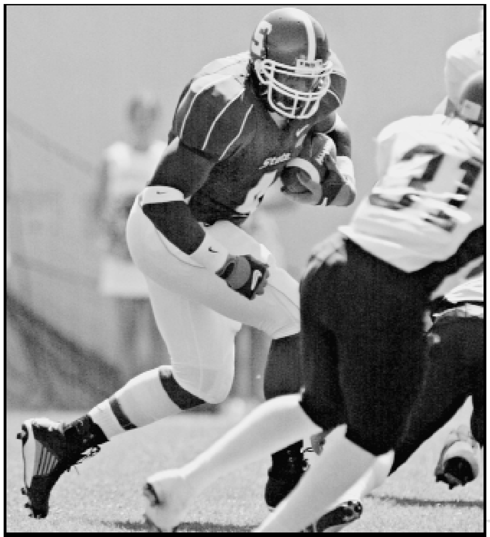
Michigan State returns 16 starters overall from last year's 4-8 team, including six on offense, eight on defense and two specialists. First-year head coach John L. Smith takes a position-by-position look at the 2003 Spartans.

OFFENSIVE SCOUTING REPORT

Despite the presence of Biletnikoff Award winner Charles Rogers in the lineup, Michigan State's offense struggled in 2002, primarily because it lacked a consistent running game. The Spartans ranked 10th in the Big Ten and No. 66 nationally in rushing, averaging 142.4 yards per game. Michigan State failed to rush for 100 yards in seven of 12 games last season. As a result, the Spartans finished near the bottom of the league in total offense (No. 8 at 317.0 yards per game) and scoring (No. 9 at 26.3 points per game).

OFFENSIVE LINE

Eight lettermen return on Michigan State's offensive line, including five players with starting experience. The returning starters are left guard Joe Tate (6-5, 295, Sr.), right guard Paul Harker (6-3, 302, Sr.) and right tackle Steve Stewart (6-5, 306, Sr.). Stefon Wheeler (6-5, 319, So.), who started the last three games of the 2002 season, takes over for two-year starter Ulish Booker at left tackle while Chris Morris (6-4, 291, So.) ranks as the heir apparent to the starting job at center following the retirement of Brian Ottney, who started 33-straight games for the Spartans from 2000-02. Back-up right guard William Whitticker (6-6, 317, Jr.) has 19 career starts to his credit.



Junior Eric Knott should have plenty of opportunities to showcase his pass-catching ability in Michigan State's spread offense. Knott led the team in receptions four times in 2002.

SMITH TALKS ABOUT THE OFFENSIVE LINE:

"The offensive line has to be considered the No. 1 strength of this football team. We have experienced players returning at each position and we're expecting a lot in return. When it comes to offensive line play, there's no substitute for experience. At most positions, athleticism is the key but not on the offensive line where technique is so important.

"We're certainly going to miss Brian Ottney's leadership, experience and toughness but I like the nucleus provided by veterans Paul Harker, Joe Tate and Steve Stewart. Those guys add a great deal of stability and maturity to the offensive lineup. I honestly believe that a team is only as good as its seniors, so they are the perfect players to help lay the foundation for our football program.

"Harker and Tate are two blue-collar guys and they're exactly what we're looking for in a student-athlete. Stewart could be as good a tackle as there is in the Big Ten if he manages his weight because he has outstanding athleticism for a guy his size. And Stefon Wheeler is a promising young player."

TIGHT END

Veteran tight ends Eric Knott (6-3, 267, Jr.) and Jason Randall (6-5, 255, Jr.) figure to play major roles in Michigan State's offensive game plan.

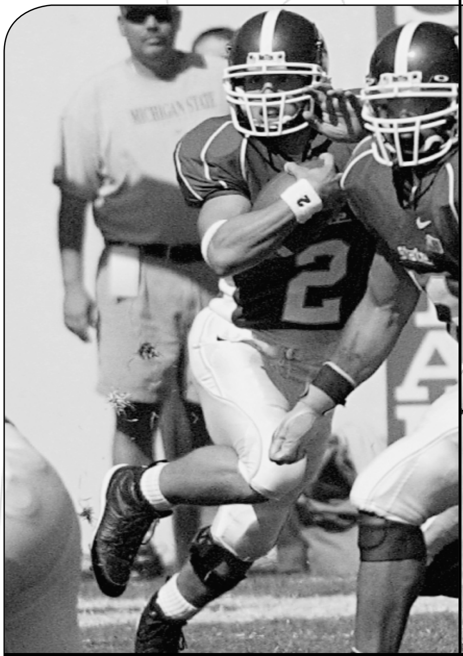
Knott, a top contender for the John Mackey Award, ranked second on the team in receptions, behind All-American Charles Rogers, with 35 for 349 yards (10.0 avg.) and four touchdowns. He paced the Spartans in catches four times.

Randall, known primarily for his blocking skills, has emerged as a pass-receiving threat. He finished fourth on the team in catches with 20 for 255 yards (12.8 avg.) and three scores.

Others who should figure prominently in the playing rotation at tight end are Matt Walters (6-3, 247, R-Jr.) and Ryan Woods (6-4, 259, So.).

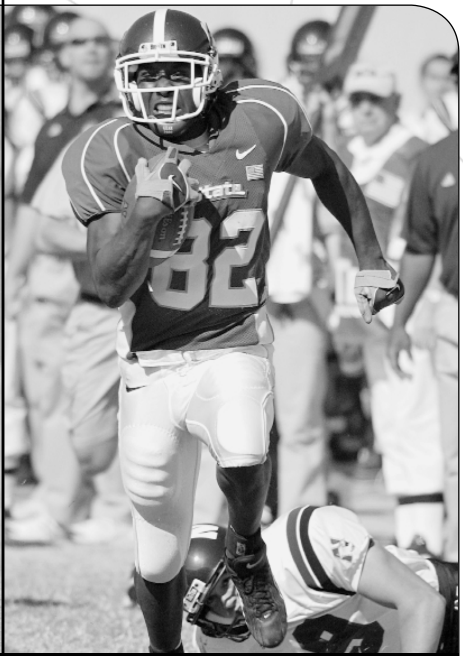
SMITH TALKS ABOUT THE TIGHT ENDS:

"We're blessed with both talent and depth at tight end, so we have the luxury of utilizing a lot of two tight-end sets in our offensive package.



Sophomore Agim Shabaj should waste little time making his presence felt in Michigan State's spread offense. In 2002, Shabaj had six catches for 45 yards.

Sophomore Kyle Brown adds big-play potential to the Spartan passing game. Brown saw limited action at receiver in 2002 but averaged a team-best 21.7 yards on kickoff returns.



Senior Ziehl Kavanaght, who had 11 catches for 123 yards in 2002, will be expected to take on a greater role in the Spartan passing game.

"Both Eric Knott and Jason Randall have displayed the ability to go down field and become pass-receiving threats. They both can block and protect.

"For his size, Knott is extremely athletic. He's a big man that can run and catch the football. Knott's amazing to watch after the catch because he simply uses his brute strength to run over linebackers and defensive backs."

WIDE RECEIVER

The biggest challenge on offense is filling the shoes of 2002 Biletnikoff Award winner Charles Rogers, who caught a school-record 68 passes for 1,351 yards and 13 touchdowns. Rogers, selected No. 2 overall by Detroit in the 2003 NFL Draft, led the Big Ten in receiving yards (112.6 per game) and TD receptions while ranking third in receptions (5.67 per game). Also gone is starting flanker BJ Lovett, who had a career-best 33 catches for 383 yards and four TDs last season.

Ziehl Kavanaght (5-11, 180, Sr.) is penciled in the starting lineup at split end. Kavanaght caught 11 passes for 123 yards (11.2 avg.) in 2002.

Kyle Brown (6-1, 205, So.), who earned his rookie stripes as a special teams contributor in 2002, is the top candidate at the flanker position. Brown averaged a team-best 21.7 yards on nine kickoff returns.

SLOT receiver Agim Shabaj (5-10, 194, So.) figures to be a key weapon in Michigan State's offensive playbook. Shabaj, slowed most of the 2002 season by knee injuries, had six catches for 45 yards.

Matt Trannon (6-6, 228, So.), Aaron Alexander (6-5, 205, So.) and Ben Steckler (6-4, 219, So.) also should push for playing time at wide receiver.

SMITH TALKS ABOUT THE WIDE RECEIVERS:

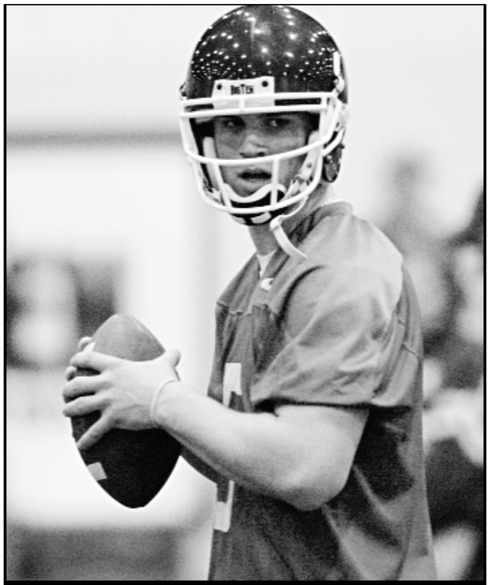
"We have some athletes at wide receiver but our numbers are limited. I've made a rule that receivers can't get hurt this fall. Seriously, we can't afford any injuries at this position.

"Some freshmen receivers will have to play immediately. With our throw first and run second philosophy, we can't wait for these guys to mature. We know they're going to make some mistakes early on but they're going to gain valuable experience.

"With an inexperienced receiving corps, Ziehl Kavanaght needs to step up and provide both production and leadership.

"Both Kyle Brown and Agim Shabaj made some plays during the spring. We got the ball in their hands and they made things happen. We must continue to put those guys in situations where they can turn modest gains into big plays.

"Aaron Alexander made great strides as a receiver over the last three weeks of spring ball. He's a big target with surprising quickness. Once he has the ball in his hands, he has shown the ability to make people miss. Aaron is a great competitor, so I also like what I see from him when he's in the huddle. He wants the football and I like that attitude a lot. If Aaron continues to work hard, he could become a big-play threat in this offense.



▲ Red-shirt freshman Drew Stanton capped off a spectacular spring by completing nine-of-15 passes for 181 yards and a touchdown in the final scrimmage.

"Our ace in the hole is Matt Trannon, who could emerge as a bona fide playmaker. Trannon creates match-up problems because of his combination of size and speed. After being away from the game for a full year, the only question is how quickly will Trannon be ready to contribute."

QUARTERBACK

The most topical question for the coming year revolves around selecting the starting quarterback. Drew Stanton (6-3, 222, R-Fr.) heads into preseason camp ranked slightly ahead of Damon Dowdell (6-1, 225, Jr.) in the bid to run Michigan State's spread offense.

Stanton completed 39-of-58 throws (.672) for 469 yards and four touchdowns in four spring scrimmages. In five starting assignments in 2002, Dowdell connected on 82-of-144 passes (.569) for 989 yards (197.8 per game), eight TDs and three interceptions. He also finished seventh in the Big Ten in passing efficiency with his 126.8 rating.

Veteran quarterback Jeff Smoker (6-3, 224, Sr.) seeks full reinstatement to the active roster in 2003. Smoker started the first seven games of the 2002 season before being suspended for the final five games after admitting a substance abuse problem. He completed 114-of-203 throws (.562) for 1,593 yards, 13 TDs and 10 interceptions. Smoker has compiled a 13-11 record in 24 career starts.

SMITH TALKS ABOUT THE QUARTERBACKS:

"Drew Stanton and Damon Dowdell waged a great battle for the starting job in the spring and it will resume when preseason camp opens. I thought the competition brought out the best in both players. We certainly have identified two players at the position who are capable of winning some football games.

"Stanton's arm is definitely his strength. He can really throw the football. Stanton is a young, talented quarterback who needs to get some playing time.

"Dowdell's greatest asset is his athleticism. He puts a lot of pressure on the defense because he's such a threat as both a runner and passer.

"We may tweak the offense a little depending upon the guy who lines up under center. We'll mold the offense to fit his talents.

"Jeff Smoker is the wild card at this position. In the spring, he wasn't allowed to compete for a spot on the first team. If he earns full reinstatement in August, then he'll be allowed to compete for the starting job."

"We're extremely fortunate to have three quality players at the quarterback position. Regardless of what league you're playing in – from Pee Wee to the National Football League – the kid pulling the trigger at quarterback can help win a lot of football games."

RUNNING BACK

The running back job belongs to Tyrell Dortch (5-10, 203, Jr.), who has completed a courageous comeback after breaking his right lower leg against

▲ In his five starting assignments last season, Damon Dowdell completed 57 percent of his passes for 989 yards, eight touchdowns and only three interceptions.

Wisconsin in the sixth game of the 2001 season. Dortch, who sat out the entire 2002 season rehabbing from the injury, ran with more abandon and confidence as spring practice progressed. In his first two seasons (2000-01), he rushed for 267 yards (5.9 avg.) while serving as (Atlanta Falcons) T.J. Duckett's understudy at tailback.

Jaren Hayes (5-9, 184, So.) also figures to earn his share of playing time at running back in 2003. Hayes finished third on the team in rushing in 2002, with 340 yards on 61 attempts (5.6 avg.). He recorded the first 100-yard game of his career in the season finale vs. Penn State, gaining 113 yards on 23 rushes.

SMITH TALKS ABOUT THE RUNNING BACKS:

"We may not have the prototype player for the one-back offense on our roster but that's okay because there's some talent there at running back. I'd prefer to line up with a 6-foot-3, 230-pound running back. At times in the spread offense, the running back acts like a tight end in terms of pass protection, so he'll be asked to step up and block. For this offense to thrive, it really needs a 1,000-yard rusher in the backfield. Time will tell if somebody's ready to step up and give us that kind of production.

"Tyrell Dortch is a quality running back who had a solid spring. Dortch runs with toughness and he's shown the ability to make people miss. I only wish that he was a little bigger, but I wouldn't trade him for anybody because I love his attitude. He gained confidence with every hit he took on his leg in the spring. Dortch also has shown the ability to come out of the backfield and catch the football, which really puts a lot of pressure on the defense. The only question I have is whether he's physical enough to handle the pass-protection assignments.

"We're also going to need some consistent production from Jaren Hayes."

DEFENSIVE SCOUTING REPORT

Coach Smith takes over a Spartan defensive unit that ranked near the bottom of the Big Ten in rushing defense (No. 9 at 213.8 yards allowed per game), total defense (No. 8 at 402.7 ypg.) and scoring defense (No. 9 at 33.2 points per game). Michigan State surrendered 2,566 yards on the ground in 2002 – the fourth-highest total allowed in school history.

DEFENSIVE LINE

Michigan State's defensive front features eight returning lettermen, including all four starters from 2002.

The Spartans are set at defensive end with Greg Taplin (6-5, 259, Sr.) and Clifford Dukes (6-3, 264, Jr.). Taplin, who begins his third season as a starter along the defensive front, produced a career-best 38 tackles in 2002. Dukes led the Spartans in sacks (4 for 22 yards) and ranked second in tackles for losses (8.5 for 31).

The projected starters at defensive tackle include Brandon McKinney (6-3, 312, Jr.) and Matthias Askew (6-6, 294, Jr.). McKinney, who earned four starting assignments a year ago, recorded 26 tackles, including two sacks (7 yards). Askew ranked second among defensive linemen in tackles with 46.

Next in terms of experience at defensive tackle are Kyle Rasmussen (6-4, 303, Sr.), Kevin Vickerson (6-5, 298, Jr.) and Greg Yeaster (6-1, 269, Jr.). Rasmussen, who has 28 career starts under his belt, has paced the defensive line in tackles each of the last two seasons, registering 49 stops in 2002. Vickerson started six games and contributed 42 tackles. Yeaster broke into the starting lineup late last season, earning starts against Purdue and Penn State.

Clifton Ryan (6-2, 279, R-Fr.) has emerged as a strong candidate for playing time at defensive end.

SMITH TALKS ABOUT THE DEFENSIVE LINE:

"We're expecting big things from Greg Taplin and Clifford Dukes. They're athletic defensive ends that can run. I was really pleased with their development in the spring, especially when you consider that they had to learn a different technique. Now, Taplin and Dukes have an idea how to set the corner and stretch the corner.

"I really believe Dukes has an opportunity to become a special player. He has the ability to make big-time plays.

The Spartan coaching staff is expecting big things from junior defensive end Clifford Dukes in 2003. Last year, Dukes paced the team in sacks, with four for 22 yards. ▲

"The key will be if our inside guys (tackles) and inside linebackers can plug up the middle enough to bubble things to the edge because our ends do run well enough to make plays.

"Clifton Ryan had a productive spring and has put himself into a position to contribute at defensive end this fall."

LINEBACKER

Michigan State will build its 2003 defense around its linebacker corps, featuring Ronald Stanley (6-0, 234, Jr.), Mike Labinjo (6-1, 270, Sr.) and Seth Mitchell (6-2, 249, So.).

Stanley moves into his third season as a starting linebacker, his first year at the MIKE position. Last year, he more than doubled his 2001 production, ranking second on the Spartans in tackles with 99. Stanley posted a team-best nine tackles for losses (21 yards) and played as well as anyone during the second half of the 2002 season, averaging 12 tackles per game during a four-game stretch.

In 2003, Labinjo returns to the SAM position after playing MIKE linebacker most of last season. He hopes to regain the form that made him one of the Big Ten's top defensive playmakers in 2001. Last year, Labinjo finished fifth on the team in tackles with 62 stops.

Mitchell became a factor when he joined the starting lineup at MIKE linebacker during the second half of the 2002 season, producing 29 tackles in just six games. In 2003, he is the projected starter at the WHIP position.

Monquiz Wedlow (5-11, 199, Sr.), who finished third on the team in tackles with 90 in 2002, is the top candidate to play the BANDIT position. Wedlow also ranked second on the team in sacks with three for 18 yards.

SMITH TALKS ABOUT THE LINEBACKERS:

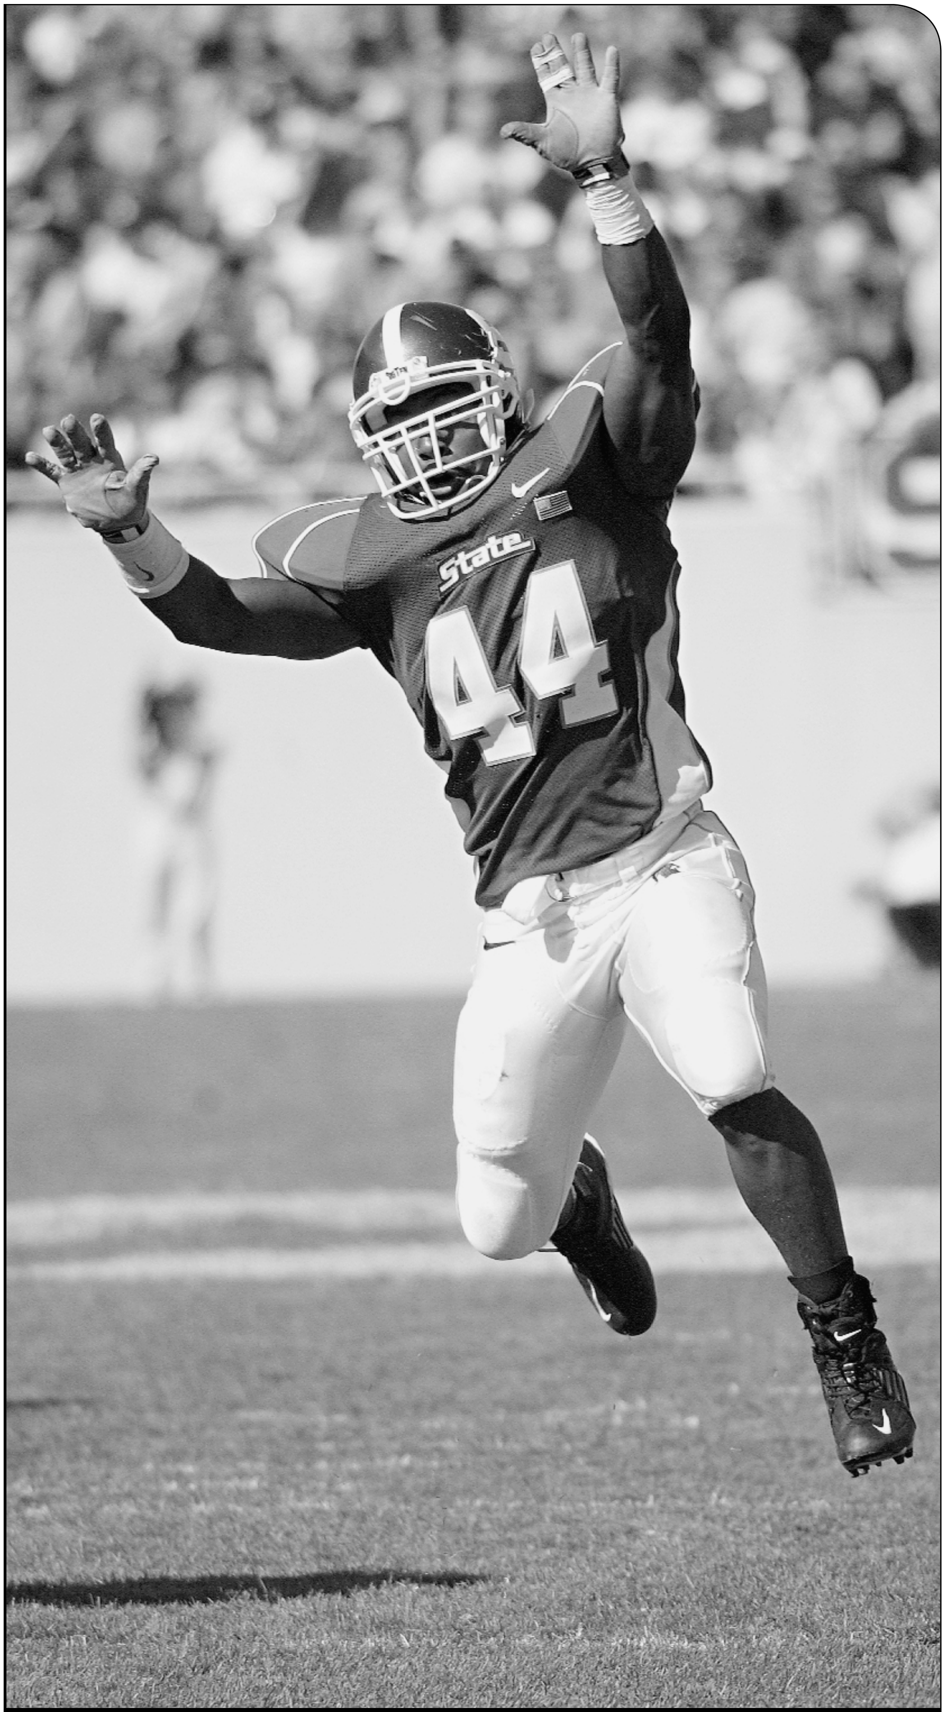
"There's no question that the starting linebackers are the strength of our defense.

"Ronald Stanley is a great football player and a remarkably consistent playmaker. Seth Mitchell adds a lot to the lineup if he can remain healthy. Mitchell's a capable playmaker, with some leadership ability. And Mike Labinjo is going to play a major factor in determining our level of success this fall. Labinjo's hungry, wanting to get back to playing well on a consistent basis.

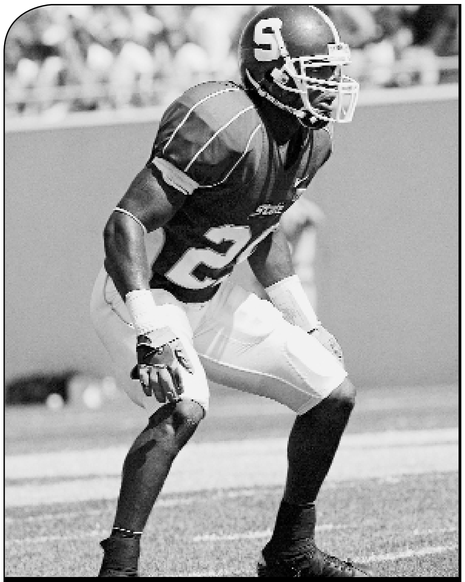
"Monquiz Wedlow is a versatile player who fits the BANDIT role perfectly. He's another guy who always seems to be around the football."

DEFENSIVE BACK

The toughest challenge on defense is retooling a defensive secondary that lost three starters, including the team's leading tackler in strong safety Thomas Wright (126 stops). Despite all the defensive breakdowns in 2002, the Spartans still managed to rank third in the Big Ten and No. 30 in the NCAA, allowing 188.8 passing yards per game.



▲ Junior Ronald Stanley, the ringleader of Michigan State's linebacker corps, played as well as anyone during the second half of the 2002 season, averaging 12 tackles per game during a four-game stretch.



Junior Jason Harmon anchors the Spartan secondary from his free safety position. Harmon recorded 64 tackles and three interceptions in 2002.

Free safety Jason Harmon (5-11, 195, Jr.) ranks as Michigan State's most experienced player in the defensive backfield, with nine career starts. Harmon ranked second on the team in interceptions (three) and fourth in tackles (64).

Eric Smith (6-1, 196, So.) is the top candidate to replace Wright at strong safety. Smith, the Spartans' most improved defensive player in 2002, recorded 38 tackles.

The corner jobs belong to Ashton Watson (6-0, 177, So.) and Roderick Maples (5-10, 190, Jr.).

SMITH TALKS ABOUT THE DEFENSIVE BACKS:

"The secondary scares me. We lost three starters back there and we're terribly thin at cornerback. The secondary is another area where young guys will receive their baptisms by fire.

"On a positive note, Roderick Maples had as good a spring as I can remember a cornerback having in all my years of coaching. Maples has a good understanding of what to do and he's very athletic. He proved that he's ready to play out on the island.

"Ashton Watson got some valuable playing experience last year and he continues to improve.

"Our corners will determine how aggressively we play on defense. If our starting corners remain healthy and hold up when left on the island, then we will be aggressive, blitz and get after people up front. If they can't stay healthy or hold up when left on the island, then we'll be forced to play a vanilla package and not take chances. Secondary play is key in determining our style of play. Our personnel will dictate the defensive approach we take because we have to give our players an opportunity to have success.

"Jason Harmon and Eric Smith are capable safeties. They both can bump out and cover plus they're physical enough to stop the run. Those guys will come up and deliver hits."

SPECIAL TEAMS SCOUTING REPORT

Dave Rayner (6-2, 203, Jr.) heads into his third season as Michigan State's starting placekicker. Rayner finished second on the team in scoring with 64 points in 2002. He converted 10-of-16 field-goal attempts (.625) and 34-of-35 extra-point tries (.971). Rayner ranked sixth in the Big Ten in field goals made at 0.83 per game.

Jason Daily (6-2, 179, Sr.) handles the punting chores for the second-straight year. Daily finished fifth in the Big Ten in punting with his 40.4-yard average overall. His consistency improved during the second half of the season, averaging 41.3 yards in Big Ten games to rank fourth among the league's punters.

Jaren Hayes (5-9, 184, So.) averaged 18.9 yards on 31 kickoff returns. His 585 kickoff return yards rank fifth on MSU's single-season chart. Kyle Brown (6-1, 205, So.) averaged a team-best 21.7 yards on nine kickoff returns.

Ziehl Kavanaght (5-11, 180, Sr.) ranked sixth in the Big Ten in punt returns with his 8.7-yard average. Kavanaght returned 33 punts for 287 yards, the eighth-best single-season total in Spartan history, including an 88-yarder for a score against Northwestern.

Agim Shabaj (5-10, 194, So.), who returned four punts for 35 yards in 2002, could take on an expanded role in the return game.

Andrew Petterson (6-0, 200, Jr.) ranks as the top candidate to handle duties as snapper in 2003.

During his tenure at Louisville, Smith's teams gained a national reputation for outstanding special teams play. In 2002, the Cardinals produced six touchdowns from special teams, returning four punts and two kickoffs for scores, and blocking 11 kicks, including nine punts.

SMITH TALKS ABOUT SPECIAL TEAMS:

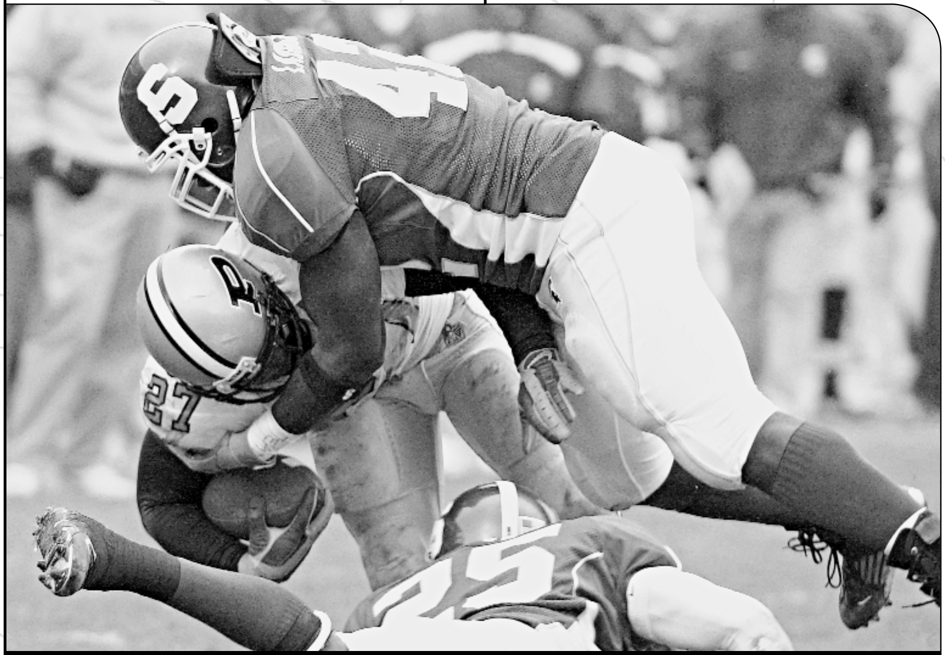
"Far too much attention is focused on the placekicker and punter when it comes to talking about special teams. Special teams success is determined by what the other 10 guys do on the field.

"We have to get some production from our special teams. We like to gamble, take chances because creating big plays on special teams can change the complexion of a game. Special teams can create such an advantage that perhaps we can steal another win or two during the course of a season.

"Dave Rayner is a capable placekicker. Rayner has a powerful leg and I was pleased with the improvement he made in his accuracy. What I want to see from him now is great competitive desire.

"Jason Daily is a solid punter. Daily showed marked improvement late last season and that carried over into the spring.

"We're going to take a look at a number of kickoff and punt return candidates. There are some familiar names like Agim Shabaj, Ziehl Kavanaght, Kyle Brown and Jaren Hayes that will get a close look, but we're also going to give guys like DeAndra Cobb (5-10, 186, Jr.) and Darren Barnett (6-0, 181, So.) an opportunity. This is another area were freshmen can contribute. Look at what Broderick Clark (red-shirt freshman) did for us last year at Louisville, averaging almost 30 yards per kick return while finishing second in the nation."



With his return to the SAM linebacker position, senior Mike Labinjo hopes to regain the form that made him one of the Big Ten's top defensive playmakers in 2001. In three seasons, Labinjo has produced 22 career tackles for losses, including six sacks.

Head Coach

First Season

John L. Smith, who ranks No. 14 among active NCAA I-A football coaches with 110 career wins and has led his last six teams to bowl games, became Michigan State University's 23rd head coach on Dec. 19, 2002.

The 54-year-old Smith has compiled a 110-60 record (.647) in 14 years as a college head coach, including an impressive 71-25 mark (.740) in conference games. He has produced six conference championships (two Conference USA, two Big West and two Big Sky). Eleven of his 14 teams have participated in postseason play.

Smith came to Michigan State following five seasons at Louisville (1998-2002) where he led the Cardinals to unprecedented success. He put together a 41-21 worksheet (.661), including five-straight bowl appearances and back-to-back Conference USA titles in 2000-01. The five bowl trips equaled the number of postseason appearances Louisville had made prior to his arrival and the five consecutive winning seasons marked a first for the program.

- The 2002 Cardinals went 7-6 overall, including a 38-15 loss to Marshall in the GMAC Bowl. Louisville finished third in the C-USA standings at 5-3, one game behind co-champions Texas Christian and Cincinnati. The highlight of the 2002 season came on Sept. 26 when the Cardinals knocked off No. 4 Florida State in overtime, 26-20. Louisville ranked among the NCAA leaders in rushing defense (No. 17 at 113.0 yards per game) and total defense (No. 22 at 319.9 ypg.). The Cardinals produced a league-best six first-team All-Conference USA selections, including Offensive Player of the Year Dave Ragone (quarterback) and Special Teams Player of the Year Broderick Clark (kick returner).
- In 2001, Smith earned Conference USA Coach of the Year honors after leading Louisville to a school-record 11 victories, including a 28-10 triumph over Brigham Young in the Liberty Bowl. Louisville became the first program in C-USA history to win back-to-back league titles while Ragone and defensive end Dewayne White became the first C-USA players from the same school to receive offensive and defensive player of the year honors in the same season. The Cardinals were ranked among the Associated Press Top 25 for seven-straight weeks, finishing No. 17 (No. 16 in USA Today/ESPN final poll).
- The 2000 team won its last four regular-season games to claim Louisville's first Conference USA championship and a berth in the Liberty Bowl. Louisville finished 9-3 overall, posting its most wins since 1993, while also making its first appearance in the national polls in seven years. For his efforts, the Football Writers Association of America named Smith one of three finalists for the Eddie Robinson Coach of the Year Award. The 2000 Cardinals featured a high-scoring offense and a relentless defense. Louisville averaged better than 35 points per game during the regular season, scoring touchdowns 73 percent of the time it reached the red zone. The Cardinals also ranked among the NCAA's leaders in rushing defense (No. 4) and total defense (No. 15). Louisville's defense led the nation in turnovers forced with 37, including 10 interceptions from All-America safety Anthony Floyd.
- In 1999, Louisville won four of its last five regular-season games en route to a 7-5 record overall, 4-2 in C-USA play. For the second year in a row, the Cardinals were listed among the nation's top 10 in scoring, passing offense and total offense. Six players earned first-team All-Conference USA honors while five rookies were named to the all-freshman team.
- The revival of Louisville's football program began in 1998. Smith inherited a team that went winless in the league and finished 1-10 in 1997 and produced the biggest turnaround among NCAA I-A programs in 1998 by guiding the Cardinals to a 7-5 record overall, 4-2 in C-USA action. Louisville led the nation in total offense, averaging 560 yards per game, while also ranking among the NCAA leaders in passing offense (No. 3) and scoring (40.4 points per game). The Cardinals topped the 50-point mark four times in 1998, including three 60-point games. Quarterback Chris Redman finished second in the nation in total offense, averaging 400.9 yards per game. Louisville broke or tied 84 school or C-USA records in Smith's first season.

Prior to his appointment at Louisville, Smith posted a 16-18 ledger (.471) in three seasons at Utah State. He took over a Utah State program that had produced only two winning seasons in the previous 15 years and led the Aggies to consecutive Big West Conference crowns in 1996-97, finishing 6-5 and 6-6, respectively.

In 1997, Utah State won four of its last five regular-season games and earned a trip to the Humanitarian Bowl. It marked the program's second bowl appearance since 1961. In 1997, the Aggies were listed among the NCAA leaders in total offense (No. 9 at 449.4 yards per game), passing offense (No. 14 at 280.5 ypg.), scoring offense (No. 17 at 33.6 points) and rushing defense (No. 25 at 115.6 ypg.).

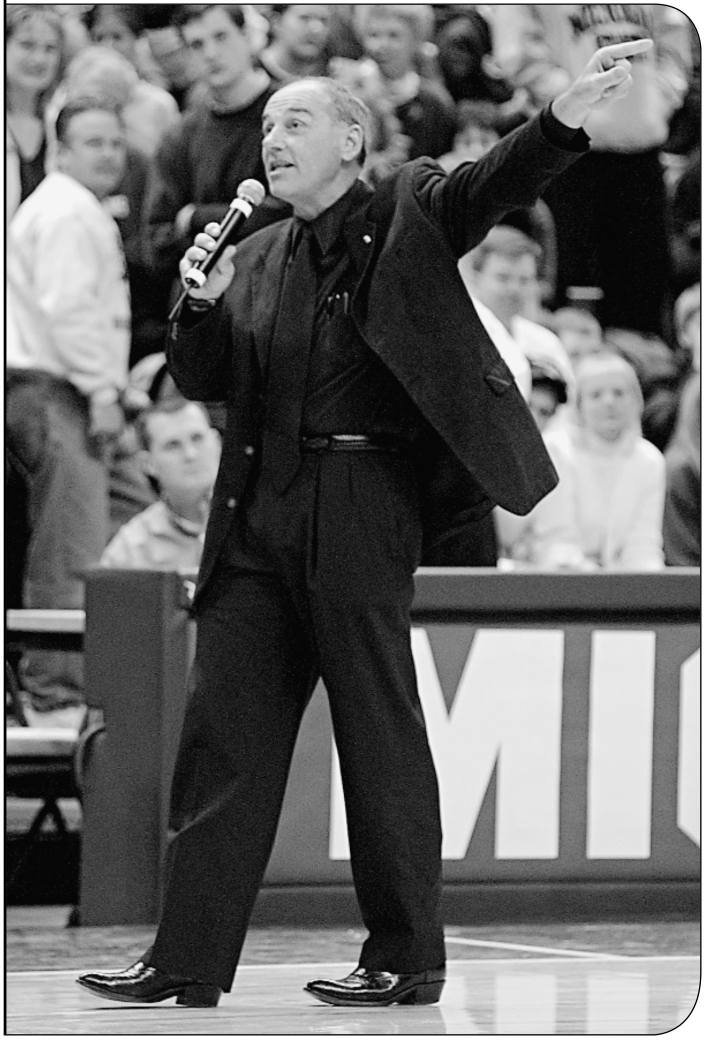
In 1996, Utah State forged a 6-5 overall mark despite facing a demanding non-league schedule, with home games against Utah and Brigham Young and road contests at Southern Miss, Oklahoma State and Texas Tech. The Aggies ranked among the nation's top 10 in passing offense (No. 7 at 317.5 yards per game) and total offense (No. 9 at 468.5 ypg.).

The Aggies compiled a 4-7 record overall in 1995 but narrowly missed posting a winning season, losing four games by a combined total of 14 points. Smith's one-back offense produced impressive numbers in 1995, with Utah State ranking among the NCAA leaders in passing offense (No. 14 at 270.5 ypg.) and total offense (No. 16 at 434.2). The defense certainly did its share to keep the Aggies in the Big West title race, allowing fewer than 16 points per game in league play. Utah State finished among the league leaders in every defensive category – second in total defense, second in passing defense and third in rushing defense.

A native of Idaho Falls, Idaho, Smith arrived at Utah State following six seasons at the University of Idaho where he became the winningest coach in school history. His six-year mark of 53-21 (.716) at Idaho included a 34-11 Big Sky Conference record (.756) and five postseason appearances, including three-straight trips to the NCAA I-AA playoffs from 1992-94. Those five playoff teams also finished the year ranked among the nation's top 20.

His 1994 team won its first seven games, including a 48-38 road victory over eventual Big West Conference champion UNLV, en route to a 9-3 record, a trip to the I-AA playoffs and No. 8 final ranking.

His 1993 squad climbed to No. 1 in the polls following a 28-17 victory at Utah. Idaho lost to eventual national champion Youngstown State, 35-16, in the I-AA semifinals to end up 11-3 (No. 11 final ranking). The Vandals led the nation in both scoring (47.5 points) and total offense (532.0 yards).



His 1992 team won the Big Sky Conference title with a 6-1 record, finished the year ranked fifth nationally and its 9-3 ledger included an impressive road victory over Colorado State, 37-34. Idaho again was listed among the national leaders in total offense (second at 490.0 yards) and scoring (third at 40.6 points).

His 1991 ballclub went 6-5 and ranked second nationally in passing offense (336.3 yards) and third in total offense (482.4 yards).

His 1990 team put together a seven-game winning streak on its way to a 9-4 record and No. 13 national ranking. Idaho lost to eventual national champion Georgia Southern, 28-27, in the I-AA quarterfinals. The Vandals ranked among the national leaders in scoring (second at 37.2 points) and total offense (fifth at 454.6 yards).

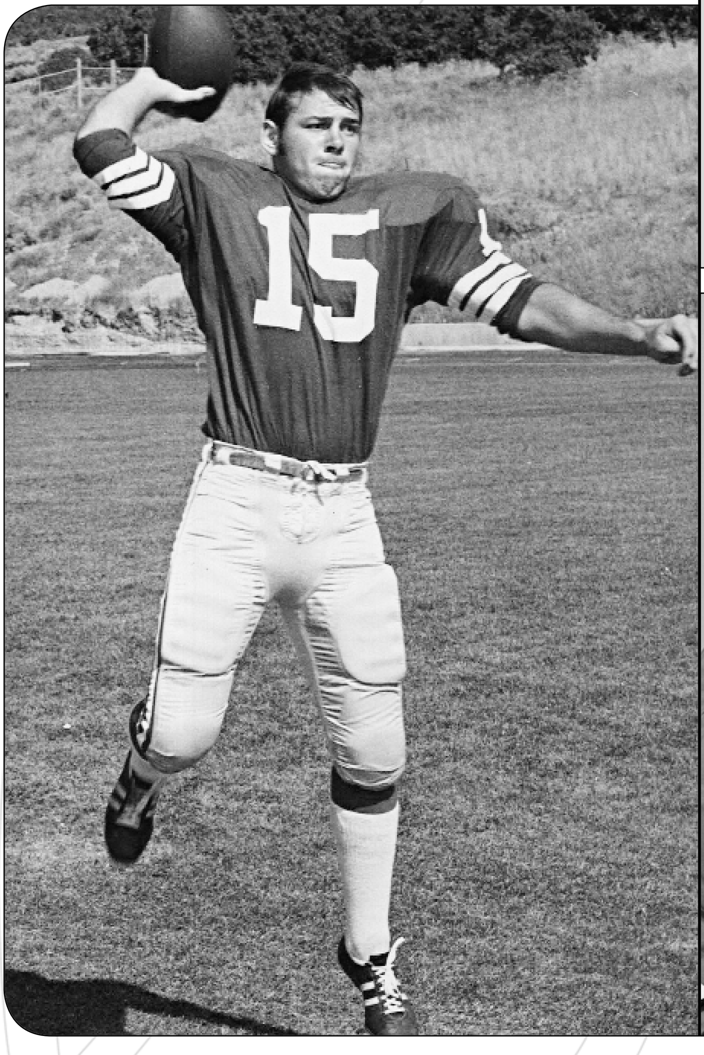
His 1989 team won a school-record nine-straight games and became the first team in Big Sky Conference history to complete the league schedule with a perfect 8-0 record. The team finished the year ranked fourth nationally at 9-3.

Smith tutored 12 first-team All-Americans at Idaho, including Walter Payton Award (I-AA Player of the Year) winners John Friesz (1989) and Doug Nussmeier (1993).

Prior to taking over the Idaho head coaching position, Smith spent two years as the defensive coordinator and assistant head coach at Washington State (1987-88) where he served under former Miami (Fla.) and Oregon State head coach Dennis Erickson, now in his first year as head coach of the National Football League's San Francisco 49ers. He was Erickson's defensive coordinator and assistant head coach at Wyoming during the 1986 season. Smith began his first stint at Idaho in 1982 where he again served as Erickson's defensive coordinator and assistant head coach for four years (1982-85).

His college coaching credits also include stops at Nevada (1977-81) and Montana (1972-76). During his tenure as defensive coordinator at Nevada, the Wolf Pack led the nation in total defense, scoring defense and rushing defense in 1980. He began his coaching career in 1971 as a graduate assistant at Weber State.

A linebacker and quarterback at Weber State, Smith earned Big Sky Conference scholar-athlete honors in 1971-72. He received his undergraduate degree in physical education with a minor in math in 1971. Smith earned a master's of science degree in physical education from the University of Montana in 1974.



He lettered in three sports – football, basketball and track – while attending Bonneville High School in Idaho Falls, Idaho. In 2000, Sports Illustrated recognized Smith as one of Idaho's top 100 athletes of the 20th century. For his accomplishments as both an athlete and head coach, he was inducted into the Idaho Athletics Hall of Fame in 2001.

Married to the former Diana Flora of Idaho Falls, Smith and his wife are the parents of three children, Nicholas (24), Kayse (21) and Sam (20).

DAVE BALDWIN

Offensive Coordinator/Tight Ends

First Season

Former San Jose State and Cal State Northridge head coach Dave Baldwin begins his first season as Michigan State's offensive coordinator and tight ends coach.

The 48-year-old Baldwin comes to Michigan State following one season at Baylor where he served as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach under Kevin Steele. In 2002, Baylor finished sixth in the Big 12 Conference in passing offense, averaging 231.5 yards per game. Senior wide receiver Reggie Newhouse, a second-team All-Big 12 selection, set Baylor single-season records for receptions (75) and receiving yards (1,140). Newhouse also ranked among the NCAA leaders in catches (No. 18 at 6.25 per game) and receiving yards (No. 18 at 95.0 per game).

Baldwin spent the 2001 season as offensive coordinator at Cincinnati under Rick Minter, helping the Bearcats to a 7-5 record and a trip to the Motor City Bowl. Cincinnati ranked among the Conference USA leaders in every offensive category, finishing second in passing offense (269.8 yards per game), third in total offense (416.3 yards), third in scoring offense (29.1 points) and fourth in rushing offense (146.5 yards). The Bearcats also were listed among the national leaders in passing offense (No. 25), total offense (No. 36) and scoring offense (No. 36). Baldwin coached 2001 C-USA Freshman of the Year Gino Guidugli, who finished second in the league in passing (257.3 yards) and third in passing efficiency (137.5 rating). Cincinnati's offense also produced C-USA's leading receiver in LaDaris Vann, who caught 6.64 passes per game.

Baldwin previously served as head coach and offensive play-caller at San Jose State for four years (1997-2000) where he compiled an 18-27 record (.400), including three-straight wins over Stanford (1998-2000).

In 2000, San Jose State produced a 7-5 worksheet – its best mark in eight years – including victories over Stanford (40-27) and ninth-ranked Texas Christian (27-24), ending the nation's longest winning streak at 12 games. The Spartans ranked among the NCAA leaders in every offensive category in 2000, finishing No. 26 in rushing offense (189.1 yards per game), No. 26 in total offense (417.3 yards), No. 30 in scoring offense (31.2 points) and No. 40 in passing offense (228.3 yards). San Jose State's offense also featured the nation's fourth-leading rusher in Deonce Whitaker, who averaged 157.7 yards per game.

His 1999 San Jose State team knocked off Rose Bowl-bound Stanford, 44-39. The Spartans again finished among the national leaders in passing offense in 1999, ranking No. 30 at 249.0 yards per game.

San Jose State opened the 1998 season with a 35-23 victory at Stanford – its first win over a Pac-10 opponent in eight years.

His 1997 Spartan squad produced a 4-7 record overall, including a 4-4 mark in Western Athletic Conference play. It marked the first time in four years that the Spartans had reached the .500 mark in league games. In 1997, San Jose State also posted its first win over a ranked opponent since 1990, upsetting No. 24 Air Force, 25-22.

Prior to taking over the San Jose State head coaching position, Baldwin posted a 9-12 record (.429) in two seasons at Cal State Northridge (1995-96). In 1996, he guided Cal State Northridge to a 7-4 mark – the school's first winning season in four years at the NCAA I-AA level.

Baldwin produced a 31-21 record (.596) in five years as a head coach at the junior college level. In 1994, he led Santa Rosa (Calif.) Junior College to an 8-3 ledger, including a trip to the Lions Bowl. He went 23-18 (.561) in four seasons at Santa Barbara City College (1990-93). In 1991, Baldwin earned California Community College Region III Coach of the Year honors after helping the Vaqueros to a 9-2 record and a berth in the Potato Bowl.

He spent 10 years as an assistant coach under Jack Elway, first as a graduate assistant at Cal State Northridge in 1979 and then as receivers coach at San Jose State for four years (1981-84) and Stanford for four seasons (1985-88). While coaching at San Jose State, he also worked along side offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach Dennis Erickson. In 1988, Baldwin became the Cardinal passing game coordinator.

The 1986 Stanford team finished 8-4 and earned a trip to the Gator Bowl. It marked the only postseason appearance for the Cardinal in the 1980s.

During his four-year stint as an assistant at San Jose State, the Spartans produced three winning seasons, including the 1981 Pacific Coast Athletic Association championship and a berth in the California Raisin Bowl. Baldwin also tutored four Spartan receivers that went on to play in the National Football League: Mark Nichols, Stacey Bailey, Mervyn Fernandez and Tim Kearse.

He began his coaching career in 1978 as an assistant coach at Granada Hills (Calif.) High School.

Baldwin earned his bachelor's degree in physical education, health and recreation from Cal State Northridge in 1978. He received a master's degree in physical education administration from St. Mary's College (Calif.) in 1986.

Married to the former Kathleen Keiley, Baldwin and his wife are the parents of three children, Sean (24), Ryan (19) and Keiley (16).

PAUL HAYNES

Cornerbacks

First Season

Paul Haynes begins his first year as cornerbacks coach at Michigan State.

Haynes comes to Michigan State following one season at Louisville where he coached the cornerbacks. In 2002, the Cardinals ranked fifth in C-USA and No. 35 nationally in pass efficiency defense (112.9 rating).

Haynes spent the 2001 season with the NFL's Jacksonville Jaguars where he served as the defensive quality-control coach. His duties included assisting the defensive coaching staff in all aspects of game preparation — compiling scouting reports, breaking down opponent film and writing the playbook. He also helped coach the secondary.

In 2001, Jacksonville ranked among the AFC leaders in passing defense (second at 190 yards per game), scoring defense (fourth at 17.9 points) and total defense (seventh at 316.9 yards).

He worked for two years under former Spartan defensive coordinator Dean Pees at Kent State (1999-2000) where he coached the secondary in 1999 before taking over the duties as assistant head coach and safeties coach in 2000.

Prior to joining the Kent State staff, Haynes coached the running backs and secondary at NCAA I-AA Northern Iowa in 1997-98.

He also served as secondary coach at Ferris State for two seasons, from 1995-96. Haynes began his coaching career at St. Francis DeSales High School in Columbus, Ohio, in 1993 before moving on to Bowling Green as a graduate assistant in 1994.

He began his playing career as a walk-on and promptly led the Golden Flashes in interceptions with three in 1987. Haynes also led the team in tackles in 1998 (116 stops) and 1990 (133). He produced 440 career tackles – the fifth-highest total recorded by a defensive back in NCAA history. His 440 tackles rank seventh on Kent State's all-time list.

The Columbus, Ohio, native earned his bachelor's degree in criminal justice from Kent State in 1992.

Kansas compiled an 8-4 overall record in 1992, including a 23-20 triumph over BYU in the Aloha Bowl, and stood No. 22 in the final AP Poll.

Mitchell first joined Coach Mason as wide receivers coach at Kent State in 1987. Prior to joining Mason, he coached the running backs at Western Michigan in 1986. Mitchell earned team MVP honors in 1981 after gaining 1,068 yards rushing. He received a bachelor's degree in parks and recreation from Central Michigan in 1984.

First Season

Chris Smeland, one of five assistants to follow head coach John L. Smith from Louisville to Michigan State, begins his first season as defensive coordinator and safeties coach. Smeland has been a defensive coordinator for 20 years, including the last eight seasons for Coach Smith.

He played an integral part in helping Louisville to a combined record of 41-21 (.661) since 1998, including five-straight bowl appearances and back-to-back Conference USA championships in 2000-01. The 52-year-old Smeland helped develop players who earned All-Conference USA honors 16 times, including seven first-team selections.

Over the last three years, Louisville's defense has produced an NCAA-best 132 sacks to go along with 86 takeaways, including 54 interceptions.

In 2002, the Cardinals ranked among the NCAA leaders in rushing defense (No. 17 at 113.0 yards per game) and total defense (No. 22 at 319.9 ypg.).

In 2001, the Cardinals finished No. 10 nationally in scoring defense, permitting 17.8 points per game.

In 2000, Louisville ranked among the NCAA leaders in rushing defense (No. 4) and total defense (No. 15) while forcing a nation-best 37 turnovers. All-America safety Anthony Floyd led the NCAA with 10 interceptions (tied Akron's Dwight Smith).

During his three-year stint at Utah State (1995-97), the Aggies won consecutive Big West Conference crowns in 1996-97. Smeland tutored six first-team All-Big West selections.

In 1997, Utah State led the Big West in every defensive category and finished No. 25 nationally in rushing defense, allowing only 115.6 yards per game.

In 1995, the Aggies again ranked among the league leaders in every defensive category – finishing second in total defense, second in passing defense and third in rushing defense. Utah State allowed fewer than 16 points per game in conference play.

Smeland spent four years on the Hawaii coaching staff (1991-94), working with the inside and outside linebackers in 1991 before being elevated to defensive coordinator in 1992. The Rainbows won a share of the Western Athletic Conference championship in 1992 and finished 11-2 overall, including a 27-17 Holiday Bowl triumph over Illinois, thanks in part to a defensive unit which ranked second in the league in rushing defense (167.2 yards). Smeland tutored two first-team All-WAC selections during his tenure, including nose guard Maa Tanuvasa (1992) and linebacker Junior Faavae (1994).

He previously served as defensive coordinator at Kent State (1988-90) and Cal Poly San Luis Obispo (1982-87). His coaching credits also include stops at Nevada (offensive line, 1979-81), Colorado (outside linebackers, 1978) and Southwestern Louisiana (inside linebackers, 1977).

A four-year letterman as a defensive back at Cal Poly SLO (1970-73), Smeland earned all-conference and All-Little Coast honors as a senior. He also served as team captain in 1973.

DINO FOLINO

Director of Player Development

Former Spartan assistant coach Dino Folino enters his second year as director of player development at Michigan State.

Folino's primary responsibilities include helping first-year student-athletes adjust to the college environment and assisting upperclassmen to prepare for life after competitive football.

Prior to accepting a position in athletics administration, he spent 27 years in the college coaching ranks. Folino returned to Michigan State following four years at Vanderbilt (1998-2001), where he coached the secondary and served as defensive coordinator under Woody Widenhofer.

He worked one season as a defensive coordinator at Alma College (1997) and two years as the defensive backs coach at Albion College (1995-96).

The 54-year-old Folino previously spent seven years as the secondary coach at Michigan State (1988-94) under George Perles. During his tenure, the Spartans made four bowl appearances (1989 Gator, 1989 Aloha, 1990 Sun and 1993 Liberty) and won a share of the 1990 Big Ten championship. In 1994, Michigan State led the Big Ten in passing defense (103.1 rating).

His college coaching credits also include stops at Rice (1986-87), Penn (1985), Pittsburgh (1981-84), Cincinnati (1977-80), New Hampshire (1976) and Ohio State (1974-75). Folino began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Ohio State, working under legendary Coach Woody Hayes.

A three-year football letterman (1968-70), Folina earned his bachelor's degree in education from Villanova in 1971. He received a master's degree in educational administration from Ohio State in 1975.

A native of Pittsburgh, Folino and his wife Anita have eight children: sons, Anthony, Chuck, John and Danny; and daughters, Alyse, Ann, Ellen and Carlyann. The couple also has four grandsons: Johnny, Dano, Jack and Drew.

ROBERT SALEH

Graduate Assistant

Robert Saleh is in his second season as a graduate assistant on the Michigan State coaching staff. The 24-year-old Saleh will assist the Spartan defensive coaches, working primarily with defensive line coach Steve Stripling.

In 2002, he worked on the offensive side of the football, assisting offensive line coach Jeff Stoutland.

Prior to joining the Spartan coaching staff, Saleh served as a corporate banker at Comerica Bank World Headquarters in Detroit.

Saleh earned four varsity letters at Northern Michigan (1997-2000) where he played for Coach Eric Holm. He started 46 consecutive games at tight end for the Wildcats, including 10 starts as a true freshman in 1997.

A native of Dearborn, Mich., Saleh earned his bachelor's degree in finance from Northern Michigan in 2001. He is scheduled to complete his master's degree in sports administration at Michigan State in December 2003.

A member of the American Football Coaches Association, Saleh is single and resides in East Lansing, Mich.

DAVE SUCURA

Graduate Assistant

Former Spartan offensive lineman Dave Sucura is in his first season as a graduate assistant coach. He will assist Michigan State's offensive coaches, working primarily with offensive line coach Jeff Stoutland.

The 25-year-old Sucura begins his coaching career after spending two years in Arena Football2 with the Tennessee Valley Vipers where he played center and nose guard.

A four-year letterman from 1997-2000, Sucura started 35 consecutive games for Michigan State. He started all 12 games at left tackle in 1998 before making the move inside to left guard. In 2000, Sucura won the Danziger Award as the team's outstanding Detroit-area player. In 1999, he earned the Tommy Love Award as the team's most improved player.

Sucura earned a bachelor's degree in business administration from Michigan State in 2001. He plans to pursue a master's degree in sports administration.

A native of Sterling Heights, Mich., Sucura was a three-year starter for Coach Rick Bye at Adlai Stevenson High School.

Dowdell accounted for a total of five TDs vs. Indiana, scrambling 8 yards for a score with 6:55 left in the first quarter as the Spartans jumped out to a 7-0 lead. He connected on 11-of-14 passes for 146 yards and two TDs in the first half as Michigan State built a 42-7 halftime lead.

STANLEY DEPENDABLE

Sophomore linebacker Ronald Stanley ranked second on the team in tackles (99 total) and production points (138). Stanley led the Spartans in tackles for losses, with nine for 21 yards. He played as well as anyone down the stretch, reaching double figures in tackles in three of his last six games.

Stanley earned Spartan Defensive Player of the Week honors after registering 10 tackles (6 solos, 4 assists), including one for a 3-yard loss, vs. Indiana. He delivered two quarterback hits and totaled 19 production points against the Hoosiers.

The 6-foot, 220-pound WILL linebacker from Saginaw, Mich., produced a career-high 16 tackles (10-6) vs. Michigan and 13 stops (8-5) vs. Minnesota.

KNOTT A BAD TARGET

Despite the loss of second-team All-American Chris Baker, Michigan State's career record-holder for receptions by tight end with 133, the position appears to be in good hands. Sophomore tight end Eric Knott ranked second on the team in receptions, behind 2002 Biletnikoff Award winner Charles Rogers, with 35 for 349 yards (10.0 avg.) and four touchdowns.

Knott paced the Spartans in receptions four times in 2002, including back-to-back games vs. Michigan and Wisconsin. He matched his career high with six catches for 31 yards against the Wolverines. Knott caught four passes for 70 yards against the Badgers and his 34-yard reception from Damon Dowdell late in the third quarter set up Michigan State's second TD.

He had a team-high five catches for 75 yards vs. Northwestern, including a 36-yard grab in the fourth quarter that led to a field goal. Three of his five receptions vs. Northwestern produced first downs.

The 6-foot-3, 258-pound sophomore from Detroit had four catches for 23 yards vs. Rice, including a 2-yard TD toss from Jeff Smoker on third-and-goal that iced the game early in the fourth quarter.

Knott caught six passes for 69 yards (11.5 avg.) and two touchdowns in MSU's 56-7 triumph over Eastern Michigan in the 2002 season opener. Knott scored on pass plays of 4 and 30 yards from Smoker in the second quarter as the Spartans put 21 points on the scoreboard en route to a 28-0 halftime lead. Three of his six catches vs. EMU resulted in first downs.

SPARTANS RECOGNIZED FOR THEIR EFFORTS IN THE CLASSROOM

To be eligible for the Academic All-Big Ten Team, a student-athlete must be a letterwinner in his second academic year and carry at least a 3.0 career grade-point average (on a 4.0 scale).

SPARTAN DEFENSE LOST GROUND BATTLES

Michigan State ranked ninth in the Big Ten and No. 110 nationally (out of 117) in rushing defense in 2002, allowing 213.8 yards per game. Opponents gained 2,566 yards on the ground against the Spartans, the fourth-highest total allowed in school history.

The Spartans permitted 1,695 combined rushing yards over the last six games (282.5 yards per game), including 390 yards on 50 attempts (7.8 avg.) by Penn State, 307 yards on 66 rushes (4.7 avg.) by Purdue, 107 yards on 33 carries (3.2 avg.) by Indiana, 188 yards on 53 attempts (3.5 avg.) by Michigan, 390 yards on 60 rushes (6.5 avg.) by Minnesota and 313 yards on 56 carries (5.6 avg.) by Wisconsin.

Larry Johnson rushed for 279 yards and four touchdowns – all in the first half against Michigan State – while becoming the first Penn State running back and only the ninth player in NCAA I-A history to gain 2,000 yards in a season. Purdue's Brandon Kirsch became only the fifth quarterback in Boilermaker history to rush for 100 yards in a game, picking up 125 yards on 21 attempts against the Spartans. Michigan's B.J. Askew rushed for a career-best 149 yards (32 carries) and two scores vs. Michigan State. Minnesota's Terry Jackson II produced 238 yards on 29 attempts against the Spartans while his back-up Thomas Tapeh gained 147 yards on 25 rushes. Wisconsin also had two backs record 100-yard games against Michigan State, with Anthony Davis picking up 170 yards on 29 carries and Dwayne Smith rushing for 110 yards on 14 attempts.

The Spartans surrendered 200-plus yards on the ground six times in 2002. By comparison, only two opponents in 2001 produced 200-yard rushing games against Michigan State (322 by Minnesota and 489 by Indiana).

SPARTAN RUNNING GAME LACKED CONSISTENCY

Michigan State ranked 10th in the Big Ten and No. 66 nationally in rushing, averaging 142.4 yards per game. The Spartans were held below 100 yards rushing in seven of their 12 games in 2002.

Michigan State generated only 324 combined rushing yards during its four-game losing streak (81.0 yards per game), including 59 yards on 30 attempts (3.0 avg.) vs. Michigan, 159 yards on 38 carries (4.2 avg.) vs. Wisconsin, 51 yards on 26 rushes (2.0 avg.) vs. Minnesota and 55 yards on 33 attempts (1.7 avg.) vs. Iowa.

The Spartans also managed only 58 yards on 32 rushes (1.8 avg.) against Rice, 87 yards on 30 carries (2.9 avg.) vs. California and 53 yards on 34 attempts (1.6 avg.) vs. Notre Dame. It marked the first time since 1992 (60 yards vs. Michigan, 69 vs. Minnesota and 99 vs. Ohio State) that the Spartans produced less than 100 yards rushing in three-straight games.

Michigan State's ground game displayed flashes of brilliance vs. Eastern Michigan, Northwestern and Indiana.

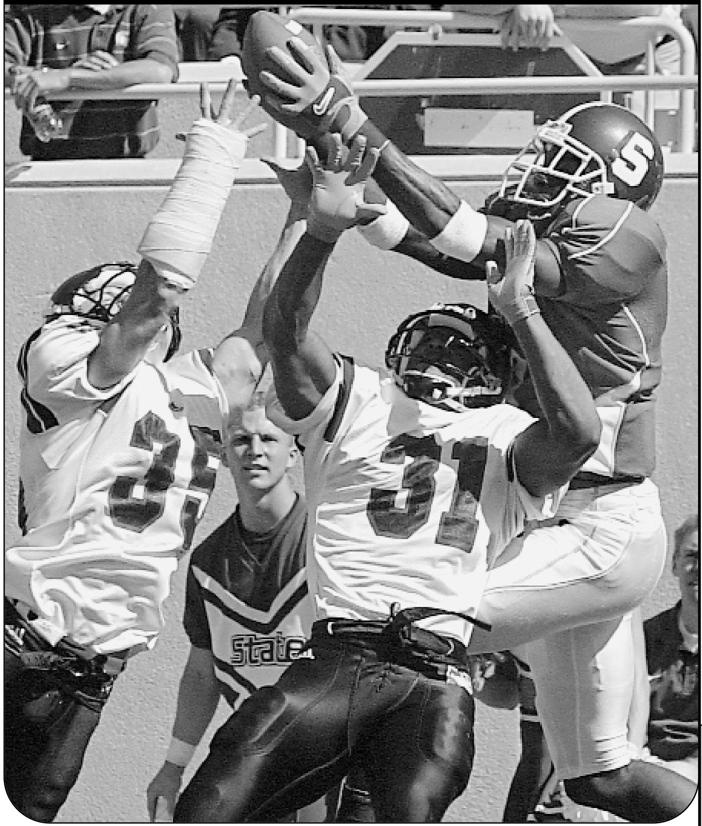
The Spartan running attack produced 369 yards in the season opener vs. Eastern Michigan – its highest single-game rushing total since amassing 452 yards on the ground vs. Penn State in the 1997 regular-season finale. First-year backs accounted for 233 rushing yards vs. EMU.

Michigan State's running game accounted for 276 of its 539 total yards in a 39-24 victory over Northwestern in the 2002 Big Ten opener.

Freshmen David Richard and Jaren Hayes rushed for a combined 234 yards and three touchdowns in MSU's 56-21 victory over Indiana. Michigan State yielded 289 rushing yards (6.7 avg.) and scored four rushing TDs against the Hoosiers.

PLAYING IN FRONT OF A FULL HOUSE

Michigan State has played before a sellout crowd in 34 of its last 39 home games, including the last 26 in a row. The Spartans have ranked among the NCAA's top 20 in attendance each of the last 47 years, including 19th in 2002, averaging 73,942 fans per game.



With his 21-yard touchdown reception from Jeff Smoker vs. Northwestern, Charles Rogers set both NCAA and Big Ten records by catching a TD pass in his 13th-consecutive regular-season game and his 14th-straight game overall. Rogers outjumped Northwestern's Marvin Ward and Mark Roush to make the catch in the corner of the end zone.

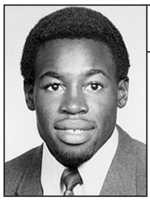
FLOZELL ADAMS #76

OT / 6-7 / 330

Bellwood, IL

Flozell Adams captured first-team All-America recognition as picked by the Walter Camp Foundation as a senior in 1997. The '97 Big Ten Offensive Lineman of the Year, Adams started all 12 games at left tackle and helped the Spartans to a No. 24 spot nationally in rushing offense (199.5 ypg.). He also opened holes for MSU running backs who tallied 100 or more yards seven times during the season. At 6-foot-7, 330 pounds, Adams allowed only two sacks and recorded 37 pancakes. He was drafted in the second round by the Dallas Cowboys in the 1998 NFL Draft.

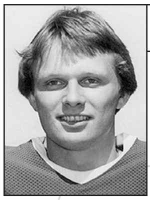


ERIC ALLEN #24

TB / 5-9 / 161

Georgetown, SC

Eric Allen brought home All-America honors his senior year in 1971 as chosen by the American Football Coaches Association. Allen rushed for a Big Ten-leading 1,494 yards in overall action, an MSU seasonal record that stood until 1985. In addition, Allen's 1,283 yards on the ground in league contests established a Big Ten mark, as did his 110 points, making him the first player in Big Ten history to crack the century mark. Allen broke two NCAA records, four Big Ten marks and nine MSU records in '71. His greatest game came against Purdue when he rushed for an NCAA-record 350 yards on 29 carries, a record that stood until 1978. Named the Big Ten's MVP in '71, he rushed for 100 or more yards on seven occasions and his 18 TDs represented school and Big Ten records. Career-wise, he finished as MSU's all-time leader in rushing attempts (521) and rushing yards (2,654). Drafted by the Baltimore Colts in the fourth round of the 1972 NFL Draft, he signed with the Toronto Argonauts of the CFL.



MORTEN ANDERSEN #8

PK / 6-2 / 195

Streur, Denmark

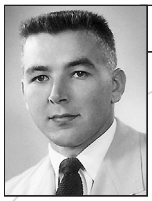
He was MSU's leading scorer with 73 points on 28 PATs and 15 field goals (20 att.). He set a school and Big Ten record when he drilled a 63-yard field goal against Ohio State. In addition, opponents returned just 17 of his 56 kickoffs. Andersen closed out his college career ranked No. 1 on the MSU and Big Ten lists in field goals with 45 while holding down the top spot on the school's all-time chart in PATs (126) and total points (261). He recorded seven field goals of 50 or more yards and three others of 49 yards. Picked by the New Orleans Saints in the fourth round of the 1982 NFL Draft.

BOB ASPIA #45

FB / 6-1 / 212

Honolulu, HI

Bob Apisa was an All-America selection as a sophomore in 1965 by Football News and his junior year in 1966 by Football News and the New York News. In '65, despite missing most of the last three games due to a knee injury, he rushed for 666 yards, then the best seasonal mark turned in by a Spartan fullback, along with nine TDs. In 1966, Apisa once again was hampered by knee problems, but rushed for 445 yards and eight six-pointers. His career-high 140 yards on the ground against Michigan in a 20-7 victory earned him UPI Back of the Week honors. He finished his career as MSU's most prolific rushing fullback with 1,343 yards in 262 attempts. A ninth-round pick of the Green Bay Packers in the '68 NFL Draft.

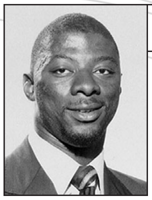


ED BAGDON #65

G / 5-10 / 200

Dearborn, MI

Ed Bagdon garnered All-America status as a senior in 1949 as chosen by Look, United Press, The Sporting News, New York News, Central Press, Newspaper Enterprise Association and Tele-News. The recipient of the 1949 Outland Trophy as the nation's top interior lineman, he was part of a group known as "Duffy's Toughies" who knocked holes in opposing defenses from his guard position for Spartan backs. He developed a peculiar, but effective, shoulder brush-type block that took tacklers out of the play, but permitted him to keep on his feet and on the move. Named team captain in 1949, he started every game during his varsity career. Following his stint at MSU, he played professionally with the Chicago Cardinals and Washington Redskins.



CARL BANKS #54

OLB / 6-6 / 235

Flint, MI

Named the Spartans' MVP that season, he recorded 86 tackles, despite opponents rarely running to his side of the field, while closing out his career with 279 hits. Named as college football's linebacker of the year by the Columbus Touchdown Club, he was named first-team All-Big Ten three times and was MSU's first non-kicker to be named to the all-league team more than twice. He was taken in the first round (third player overall) by the New York Giants in the '84 NFL Draft. In 1996, he was selected as a member of the MSU Centennial Super Squad as picked in a poll conducted by the Lansing State Journal.

HARLON BARNETT #36

CB / 6-0 / 192

Cincinnati, OH

Harlon Barnett captured first-team All-America recognition as picked by The Sporting News as a senior in 1989. He was a primary reason that the Green and White ranked No. 1 in the Big Ten and No. 11 nationally in both rushing defense (95.4 ypg.) and total defense (280.5 ypg.). He compiled 73 stops, high among Spartan DBs, along with three pass interceptions and three fumble recoveries. One of his pass thefts was a 35-yard return for a TD against No. 2-ranked Miami. He finished his career with 154 tackles, six interceptions and 13 pass break-ups. He was chosen in the fourth round by the Cleveland Browns in the 1990 draft.

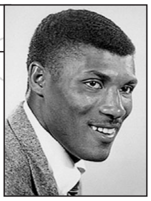
Dowagiac, MI

Dave Behrman was an All-America pick as a junior in 1961 as selected by the Associated Press and Football Writers Association and his senior year by CBS-TV. Nicknamed "The Big Bear," the 6-foot-4, 265-pounder dominated opponents with his strength. He ranked No. 2 on the club in minutes in 1961 and logged 297 minutes as a senior when he concentrated on his center position. His versatility enabled him to play tackle, guard and center during his career. Drafted in the first round by both the Buffalo Bills and the Chicago Bears, he played for the Bills from 1963-67.



LeROY BOLDEN #39

HB / 5-7 / 163

Flint, MI

LeRoy Bolden distinguished himself as an All-American his junior season in 1953 as picked by NBC-TV. Bolden paced the squad in rushing with 691 yards and scoring with 48 points. His running helped MSU to a Rose Bowl appearance in the school's first year of Big Ten play, especially in games against Minnesota and No. 16-ranked Ohio State where he registered three TDs vs. both foes while rushing for 145 and 128 yards, respectively. An all-around performer, he was a standout in the secondary and on special teams as a returner. At the conclusion of his career, he stood No. 2 on the school's all-time list in total touchdowns (26) and total points (156).

MARK BRAMMER #91

TE / 6-4 / 225

Traverse City, MI

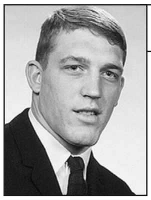
Mark Brammer landed All-America honors as a junior in 1978 as selected by the Football Writers Association, the only Big Ten gridder to earn that distinction that season. He grabbed 33 aerials for 360 yards and two TDs in '78, and was a key part of MSU's most productive offense ever—ranking No. 1 in the Big Ten in passing, scoring (No. 3 nationally at 37.4 ppg.) and total offense (No. 3 nationally at 481.3 ypg.). Started every game from his sophomore through senior years. Finished his career No. 3 on the school's all-time receptions list with 107. Picked by the Buffalo Bills in the third round of the 1980 NFL Draft.

ART BRANDSTATTER #31

FB / 5-11 / 175

Ecorse, MI

Art Brandstatter drew All-America acclaim as a senior in 1936 as selected by the All-American Board. Brandstatter was part of a Michigan State program that compiled a 20-4-2 record during his varsity career. He was selected to the 1961 Silver Anniversary All-America Team by Sports Illustrated. One of his great moments took place in 1935 when a 59-yard run in the fourth quarter against highly-ranked Temple set up the winning TD in a 12-7 decision.



ALLEN BRENNER #86

DB / 6-1 / 194

Niles, MI

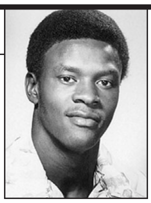
Allen Brenner was named an All-American as a senior in 1968 by the American Football Coaches and the Newspaper Enterprise Association. His final year as a Spartan saw him record 63 tackles while coming up with a team-high eight touchdown saving hits, including three vs. Notre Dame (the last one of which was a fumble-jarring hit on Notre Dame's Terry Hanratty on MSU's 2-yard line on fourth-and-goal), which preserved a 21-17 upset win. A fine two-way player, Brenner hauled in 25 pass receptions, while playing a total of 449 minutes out of 600. Named team MVP in '68, he finished his career No. 2 on MSU's all-time list in receptions (73) and receiving yards (1,232). One of two sophomore starters on the Spartans' 1966 national championship team, he set a school record (which still stands) when he returned a punt 95 yards for a TD against Illinois in his first Big Ten game. He was drafted by the New York Giants in the seventh round of the 1969 NFL Draft. In 1996, he was named to the MSU Centennial Super Squad.

ED BUDDE #79

OT / 6-4 / 243

Detroit, MI

Ed Budde was afforded All-America accolades as a senior in 1962 as picked by Time Magazine. Possessing both fine agility and speed, his blocking prowess helped MSU to a No. 2 national ranking in total rushing yardage. Following his senior year, he was the captain of the 1963 College All-Star team that defeated the Green Bay Packers. A first-round draft pick of both the Dallas Stars of the American Football League and the Philadelphia Eagles of the NFL, he enjoyed a 14-year career with the Kansas City Chiefs, earning All-Pro recognition seven times.

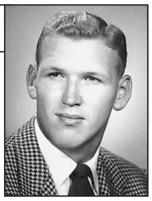


JAMES BURROUGHS #28

CB / 6-1 / 190

Pahokee, FL

James Burroughs captured All-America honors as a senior in 1981 as picked by The Sporting News. After sitting out the 1980 season due to academic reasons, he bounced back in strong fashion to post 46 tackles while registering a then-MSU single-season record of 13 pass break-ups. Burroughs was part of a Spartan defense that ranked No. 1 in the Big Ten in pass defense in 1981. He was a first-team All-Big Ten choice as picked by the league's coaches in 1981. He finished his collegiate career with 119 tackles and held the school record for pass break-ups with 28. Picked in the third round by Buffalo in the 1982 NFL Draft.



ROBERT CAREY #88

E / 6-5 / 215

Charlevoix, MI

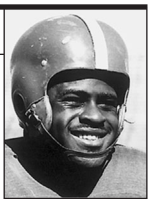
A great all-around athlete, Robert Carey was selected as an All-American as a senior in 1951 by the Associated Press, United Press, The Sporting News, Newspaper Enterprise Association, New York News and the All-American Board. MSU's leading receiver for three-straight years, he hauled in 20 aerials for 263 yards and three TDs in '51. Career-wise, he finished with 65 receptions for 1,074 yards and 14 TDs, with all three totals representing then school career records. In MSU's 24-20 come-from-behind win at Ohio State, Carey caught four passes for 50 yards, converted three PATs and made a 24-yard field goal. Against Colorado, in his final collegiate game, he caught five passes for 104 yards and two touchdowns in a 45-7 win. He is just one of 10 athletes in the history of MSU to have earned nine varsity letters. He played professionally with the Los Angeles Rams and Chicago Bears. In 1996, he was named to MSU's Centennial Super Squad (Pre-Big Ten Era).

LYNN CHANDNOIS #14

HB / 6-2 / 195

Flint, MI

Lynn Chandnois was an All-America pick as a senior in 1949 as chosen by the International News Service, United Press, Central Press, Football News and Collier's. One of the great two-way performers of his day, Chandnois rushed for a school-record 885 yards on 129 carries. Chandnois also intercepted seven enemy pass attempts, returning those thefts a total of 183 yards (tops in the nation). He paced the club in scoring with 60 points and rushed for over 100 yards in four contests that season, including a career-high 163 yards against Arizona. In the 75-0 win over the Wildcats, he sprinted 90 yards for a TD, still the longest rushing play in Spartan history. He played 55 minutes or better in six games while going all 60 in two outings. He closed out his career in the No. 1 spot in a variety of career categories at MSU, including rushing with 2,093 yards, total touchdowns with 31 (currently No. 4) and in points with 186. His 20 career interceptions are still the all-time MSU standard as is his 384 pass interception return yards. A No. 1 pick of the Pittsburgh Steelers, he played with that franchise until 1957.



DON COLEMAN #78

T / 5-10 / 185

His receiving yards and TD catches represent the second-best single-season totals in Spartan history. Rogers led the Big Ten in receiving yards (112.6 per game) and TD receptions while ranking third in receptions (5.67 per game). The UPI named him Lineman of the Year, and the Baltimore Colts made him the No. 1 pick overall in the 1967 NFL Draft. RETIRED JERSEY NUMBERS

Only three jersey numbers have been retired in the 105-year history of Michigan State football – No. 78 worn by All-America tackle Don Coleman, No. 90 worn by All-America roverback George Webster and No. 46 in honor of former MSU President John Hannah.

Spartan head coach Biggie Munn (1947-53) pulled Coleman's No. 78 out of circulation in 1952. Munn called Coleman, a consensus All-American in 1951, "the finest lineman ever to play for Michigan State." Coleman was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1975.

Webster, a two-time All-American, had his No. 90 retired by head coach Duffy Daugherty in 1967. "George Webster is not only the finest football player I've ever seen but he symbolizes our great 1965 and '66 teams." Webster was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1987.

Daugherty retired the No. 46 in 1969 as a tribute to Dr. Hannah, who stepped down after 46 years of service to the University including 28 years as its president (1941-69). Hannah championed Michigan State's acceptance into the Big Ten Conference in 1949. Former Spartan head coach and athletics director George Perles said, "John Hannah is the greatest legend in the history of Michigan State. He is the person who made MSU the great school it is today."

BOWL HISTORY

Michigan State football teams have appeared in 16 postseason bowl games, including seven New Year's Day games. The Spartans are 7-9 (.438) in bowl games, including back-to-back wins over No. 10 Florida (37-34) in the 2000 Florida Citrus Bowl and No. 20 Fresno State (44-35) in the 2001 Silicon Valley Football Classic.

- With Michigan State's 44-35 triumph over 20th-ranked Fresno State in the 2001 Silicon Valley Football Classic, Bobby Williams became the first head coach in Spartan football history to win his first two bowl games. Williams made his head coaching debut on Jan. 1, 2000, as he led the Spartans to a last-second victory over No. 10 Florida, 37-34, in the Florida Citrus Bowl.
- Michigan State's 37-34 win over No. 10 Florida in the 2000 Florida Citrus Bowl marked its first New Year's Day bowl victory since the 1988 Rose Bowl and ended a four-game losing streak in postseason play.
- Each of Michigan State's last three bowl opponents have been ranked in the Associated Press Top 25, including No. 20 Fresno State in the 2001 Silicon Valley Football Classic, No. 10 Florida in the 2000 Florida Citrus Bowl and No. 21 Washington in the 1997 Aloha Bowl.
- The Spartans have made seven bowl appearances since 1990.
- During his 12-year tenure (1983-94), George Perles took Michigan State to seven bowl games, including four straight trips from 1987-90 (1988 Rose, 1989 Gator, 1989 Aloha and 1990 Sun).
- Coach Charles Bachman's 1937 team earned Michigan State's first bowl invitation, losing to Auburn, 6-0, in the 1938 Orange Bowl.

The fourth annual Orange Bowl game wasn't nearly as close as the final score might indicate as Auburn dominated play on both sides of the football in recording a shutout victory, 6-0, over Michigan State. It still ranks as the lowest-scoring game in Orange Bowl history. Auburn wasted two scoring opportunities in the first quarter. Jimmy Fenton's 25-yard run gave the Tigers a first-and-10 at the MSU 12 but the Spartan defense responded by stuffing three-straight running plays and Lyle Rockenbach broke up Fenton's fourth-down pass. Tom McShannock's interception and 29-yard return ended Auburn's second scoring threat. The game's only touchdown came in the second quarter and it was set up by George Kenmore's 28-yard pass to Ralph O'Gwynne to the MSU 2. Auburn fullback Pel Sitz netted only 1 yard on three carries before O'Gwynne scored on a 1-yard run around left end on fourth-and-goal. The Tigers had several chances in the second half to break the game open. Auburn turned the ball over on downs at the MSU 16 in the third quarter after Dutch Heath's 12-yard interception return to the MSU 24. Michigan State failed to record a first down until late in the third quarter when Ed Pearce broke a 29-yard run. Auburn drove inside the MSU 30 twice in the fourth quarter but failed to put points on the scoreboard. The Spartans' only other first down came on a 23-yard pass from John Pingel to Usif Haney midway through the fourth quarter. Auburn outgained Michigan State, 278-67, total yards. Fenton and Speck Kelly combined for 137 of the Tigers' 197 rushing yards, gaining 76 and 61 yards, respectively. Auburn held Pingel, MSU's All-America halfback, to 12 yards rushing on seven carries. A sellout crowd of nearly 19,000 attended the game at Miami's brand-new $360,000 Roddy Burdine Stadium.

1954 / ROSE BOWL

JAN. 1, 1954 / PASADENA, CALIF.

Billy Wells ran for one touchdown and returned a punt for another score to lead No. 3 Michigan State to a 28-20 victory over No. 5 UCLA in the 1954 Rose Bowl. UCLA jumped out to a 14-0 lead, capitalizing on two Spartan turnovers. Midway through the first quarter, Jim Salsbury recovered a fumble on the MSU 37 and six plays later, Paul Cameron hit Bill Stits with a 13-yard TD strike to give the Bruins a 7-0 lead. Early in the second quarter, Hardiman Cureton and Bob Long combined to sack Spartan QB Earl Morrall, who fumbled, and Cureton fell on it at the MSU 18. Seven plays later, Cameron scored on a 2-yard run off left tackle. The momentum changed midway through the second quarter when Ellis Duckett blocked Cameron's punt from the UCLA 25 and returned it 6 yards for a touchdown as the Spartans cut the deficit to 14-7 at halftime. The Spartans dominated play in the third quarter. Michigan State took the second-half kickoff and drove 78 yards in 14 plays with LeRoy Bolden scoring on a 1-yard dive to tie the game at 14. Wells capped a 10-play, 73-yard drive with a 2-yard TD run to give the Spartans their first lead at 21-14 late in the third quarter. Early in the fourth quarter, UCLA forced another fumble and Jack Ellena recovered it at the MSU 24. Two plays later, Cameron hit Rommie Loudd with a 28-yard TD toss but Cameron's conversion attempt sailed wide and the Bruins still trailed 21-20. Michigan State iced the game when Wells returned Cameron's punt 62 yards for a touchdown with 4:51 left in the fourth quarter. Wells led a well-balanced Spartan running attack, picking up 80 yards on 14 carries.

Dave Kaiser converted his first career field-goal attempt, a 41-yarder with :07 left, to give No. 2 Michigan State a 17-14 win over No. 4 UCLA in the 1956 Rose Bowl. Michigan State found itself in an early hole as Earl Morrall's pass on the first play from scrimmage was intercepted by Jim Decker and returned 4 yards to the MSU 16. 1984 / CHERRY BOWL

DEC. 22, 1984 / PONTIAC, MICH.

Wishbone quarterback Nate Sassaman rushed for 136 yards on 28 carries to lead Army, making its first-ever bowl appearance, to a 10-6 triumph over Michigan State in the 1984 Cherry Bowl. Michigan State had an early scoring chance after Phil Parker intercepted a rare Army pass and returned 18 yards to the Cadet 43. Three plays netted only 8 yards and Ralf Mojsiejenko's 52-yard field-goal attempt missed wide left. The Spartans put together a nine-play, 58-yard drive but early in the second quarter on third-and-goal from the Army 5, Dave Yarema's pass was intercepted in the end zone by Kermit McKelvy. A Michigan State fumble near midfield led to Army's only touchdown. Cadet Clarence Jones capped off an eight-play, 46-yard drive with a 4-yard run off right tackle to give Army a 7-0 lead with 6:41 left in the first half. Early in the third quarter, Sassaman rushed eight times for 37 yards during a 14-play, 49-yard drive but Craig Stopa's 32-yard field-goal try went wide right. Army converted a Spartan fumble into a field goal and a 10-0 lead in the fourth quarter as a 15-play, 59-yard drive produced a 38-yard field goal by Stopa with 8:40 remaining. A Cadet fumble gave Michigan State life as Tom Allan recovered the ball at the MSU 49. Three plays later, Yarema found Bob Wasczenski in the left corner of the end zone with a 36-yard TD strike. The two-point pass attempt failed and Michigan State trailed 10-6 with 4:19 left. Army gained 256 yards rushing on 71 attempts while controlling the clock for 34:05. The Cadets sacked Yarema six times and picked off three of his passes, including two by Doug Pavek.

USC scored on its second possession as a 12-play, 52-yard drive produced a 34-yard field goal by Quin Rodriguez. MSU responded with a 15-play, 76-yard drive of its own to take a 7-3 lead on Lorenzo White's 5-yard touchdown run around left end with :54 left in the first quarter. Blake Ezor carried the ball six straight times to the USC 18 to set up Langeloh's game-winning field goal. USC took the ensuing kickoff and drove to the MSU 30 but Peete fumbled away the center snap and Todd Krumm recovered. THE TRADITION CONTINUES

1990 / SUN BOWL

DEC. 31, 1990 / EL PASO, TEXAS

Courtney Hawkins accounted for 216 all-purpose yards and caught a touchdown pass to lead No. 22 Michigan State to a 17-16 win over No. 21 Southern Cal in the 1990 Sun Bowl. MSU dodged a bullet early as Mike Iaquaniello intercepted a Todd Marinovich pass in the end zone on USC's first series. Late in the first quarter, the Trojans put together an eight-play, 60-yard drive to take a 7-0 lead on Marinovich's 7-yard pass to Gary Wellman. After a Spartan fumble, USC was again knocking on the door but on a fourth-and-inches play from inside the MSU 1, Marinovich mishandled the snap from center and Alan Haller recovered the fumble in the end zone for a touchback. MSU took advantage of the turnover and Hyland Hickson capped a 10-play, 80-yard drive with an 18-yard TD run with 2:22 left in the first half. USC opened the second half with an 18-play, 80-yard drive that lasted nine minutes but it had to settle for a 20-yard field goal from Quin Rodriguez. The Spartans responded by scoring 10-straight points. On a third-and-13 play from the MSU 26, Dan Enos hit Hawkins on a post pattern for a 41-yard gain and a first down at the USC 33. Four plays later, Hawkins scored on a 21-yard pass from Enos that gave MSU its first lead at 14-10. Freddie Wilson's interception at the USC 34 late in the third quarter led to a 52-yard field goal by John Langeloh as the Spartans built a 17-10 advantage. The Trojans got field goals of 54 and 43 yards from Rodriguez in the fourth quarter to cut the deficit to 17-16. MSU iced the game with two rushing first downs in the final three minutes. Hawkins caught six passes for 106 yards and a score to earn Sun Bowl MVP honors. Enos connected on nine-of-17 throws for 131 yards, including eight-straight completions during one stretch. Marinovich completed 18-of-30 passes for 174 yards but threw three interceptions. USC's Mazio Royster rushed for a game-high 125 yards on 32 carries.

◂ Hyland Hickson rushed for a team-high 68 yards, including an 18-yard touchdown run in the second quarter, in Michigan State's 17-16 win over Southern Cal in the 1990 Sun Bowl.

Jeff Brohm completed 19-of-29 passes for 197 yards and a touchdown to lead Louisville to an 18-7 win over Michigan State in the 1993 Liberty Bowl. Michigan State's only touchdown came on the game's first series. The Spartans took the opening kickoff and drove 79 yards in 11 plays with Duane Goulbourne twisting into the end zone on a 1-yard run over left guard. Spartan QB Jim Miller started with a hot hand, hitting all four pass attempts for 50 yards on the first series. Louisville also scored on its first possession as an eight-play, 56-yard march ended with David Akers' 31-yard field goal. Midway through the second quarter, the Spartans missed out on a scoring chance when Bill Stoyanovich misfired on a 31-yard field-goal attempt. Louisville put together a 14-play, 74-yard drive in the third quarter but failed to put points on the scoreboard as Akers missed a 23-yard field-goal try. Brohm directed a seven-play, 59-yard drive for the go-ahead score early in the fourth quarter, hitting Reggie Ferguson on a crossing pattern for a 25-yard TD pass. A 24-yard interception return by Darius Watson gave Louisville the ball back at the MSU 33 but seven plays later, the Spartan defense stopped Anthony Shelman short of the goal line on fourth-and-1. The Cardinals got two points back on the next play as Joe Johnson and Tyrus McCloud tackled Spartan tailback Craig Thomas in his own end zone for a safety. Louisville iced the game with a seven-play, 54-yard drive as Ralph Dawkins scored on an 11-yard sweep around right end.

Paul Edinger kicked a 39-yard field goal as time expired to give No. 9 Michigan State a 37-34 victory over No. 10 Florida in the 2000 Florida Citrus Bowl. It marked Michigan State's first New Year's Day bowl victory since the 1988 Rose Bowl and it ended a four-game losing streak in postseason play. There were five lead changes in the contest. The Spartans opened the scoring as an eight-play, 36-yard drive resulted in a 46-yard field goal by Edinger. Florida countered with an eight-play, 80-yard drive to take a 7-3 lead as Travis Taylor scored on a 12-yard toss from Doug Johnson. Michigan State built a 17-7 lead in the second quarter on Bill Burke's 37-yard TD strike to Plaxico Burress and a 24-yard fumble return by T.J. Turner. The Gators put together an 11-play, 83-yard drive to pull to within 17-14 on Johnson's 8-yard TD pass to Taylor. Edinger's second field goal, a 20-yarder, gave the Spartans a 20-14 lead but Johnson capped off an 11-play, 80-yard drive with a 1-yard sneak to put Florida ahead at the half, 21-20. Burke directed a 10-play, 84-yard drive late in the third quarter, hooking up with Burress for a 21-yard scoring pass. The Gators regained the lead on the next possession as Johnson hit Taylor for another score, this time from 39 yards out. Florida's final score came off a Spartan turnover as Alex Brown recovered a fumble at the MSU 48. Six plays later, Rob Gillespie scored on a 2-yard run as Florida extended its lead to 34-26. Michigan State rallied to tie the score at 34 early in the fourth quarter as Burke found Burress alone in the end zone for a 30-yard completion then he hit Gari Scott for the two-point conversion. Lloyd Clemons' 8-yard run on third-and-2 set up Edinger's game-winning kick from the Florida 22. Burress had a school-record 13 receptions for 185 yards and three TDs to earn Citrus Bowl MVP honors. Burke completed 21-of-35 throws for 257 yards and three scores while Clemons rushed for a game-high 105 yards on 20 carries. The MSU campus is a unique blend of tradition and innovation.

Advancing Knowledge. Transforming Lives.

For nearly 150 years, Michigan State University has been advancing knowledge and transforming lives through high-impact, innovative teaching, research, and outreach initiatives.

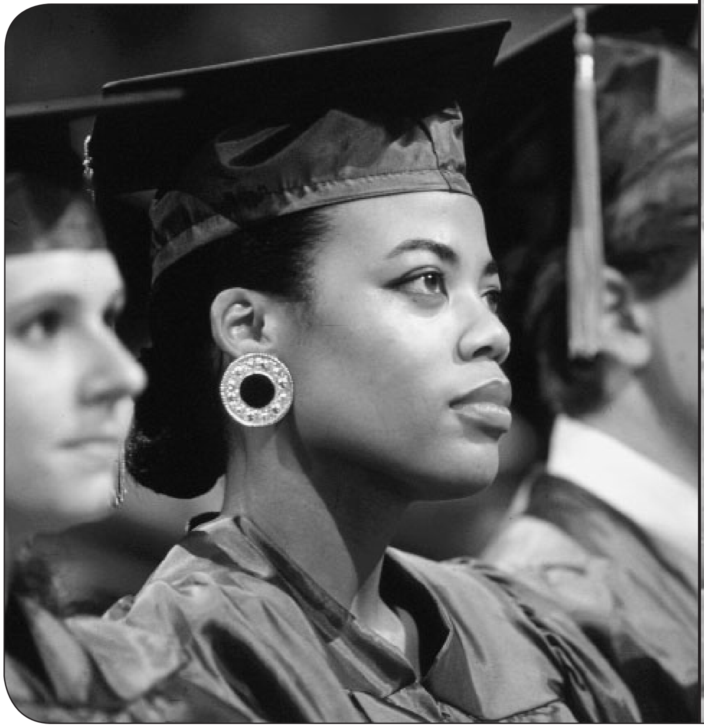
The university always has sought people to join the MSU community who have the potential to lead the transformation of their fields and others' lives while also leading MSU's mission of anticipating society's needs and working collaboratively with colleagues and others to address them.

Today, as it continues to help students become responsible, knowledgeable, productive citizens, MSU is a major public university with global reach and extraordinary impact.

ACADEMIC DISTINCTIONS

MSU is known foremost for the quality of its faculty, staff, students, graduates, and friends — the people of the MSU community. These people discover and apply knowledge, work productively, assume the responsibility of leadership, contribute to culture and tradition, serve others, and live by examined values. They are who they are in part because of their experiences at Michigan State University.

- Seventeen MSU programs and colleges were included in the 2003 graduate school rankings edition of U.S. News & World Report. Ten of MSU's specialty programs ranked in the top 10 nationally, including the College of Education's elementary education, secondary education, and rehabilitation counseling programs, which ranked No. 1. The Eli Broad College of Business and Graduate School of Management's supply chain/logistics program and the College of Education's curriculum/instruction program ranked No. 2.
- MSU faculty have received Dreyfus, Fulbright, Guggenheim, MacArthur, Sloan, and other major recognition of their accomplishments.
- MSU has had 16 Rhodes Scholars, 14 Churchill Scholars, 13 Truman Scholars, 11 Goldwater Scholars, seven Marshall Scholars, one Mitchell Scholar, and one Gates Cambridge Scholar. Last year's freshman class boasted an average GPA of 3.56.
- MSU is one of only 18 universities in both the prestigious Association of American Universities and the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges.



RESEARCH WITH IMPACT

MSU emphasizes the development of practical ways that new knowledge can be applied to address complex societal problems. As an institution, it works always to boldly envision what is needed to apply the research of today to improving life tomorrow. And it acts on that vision.

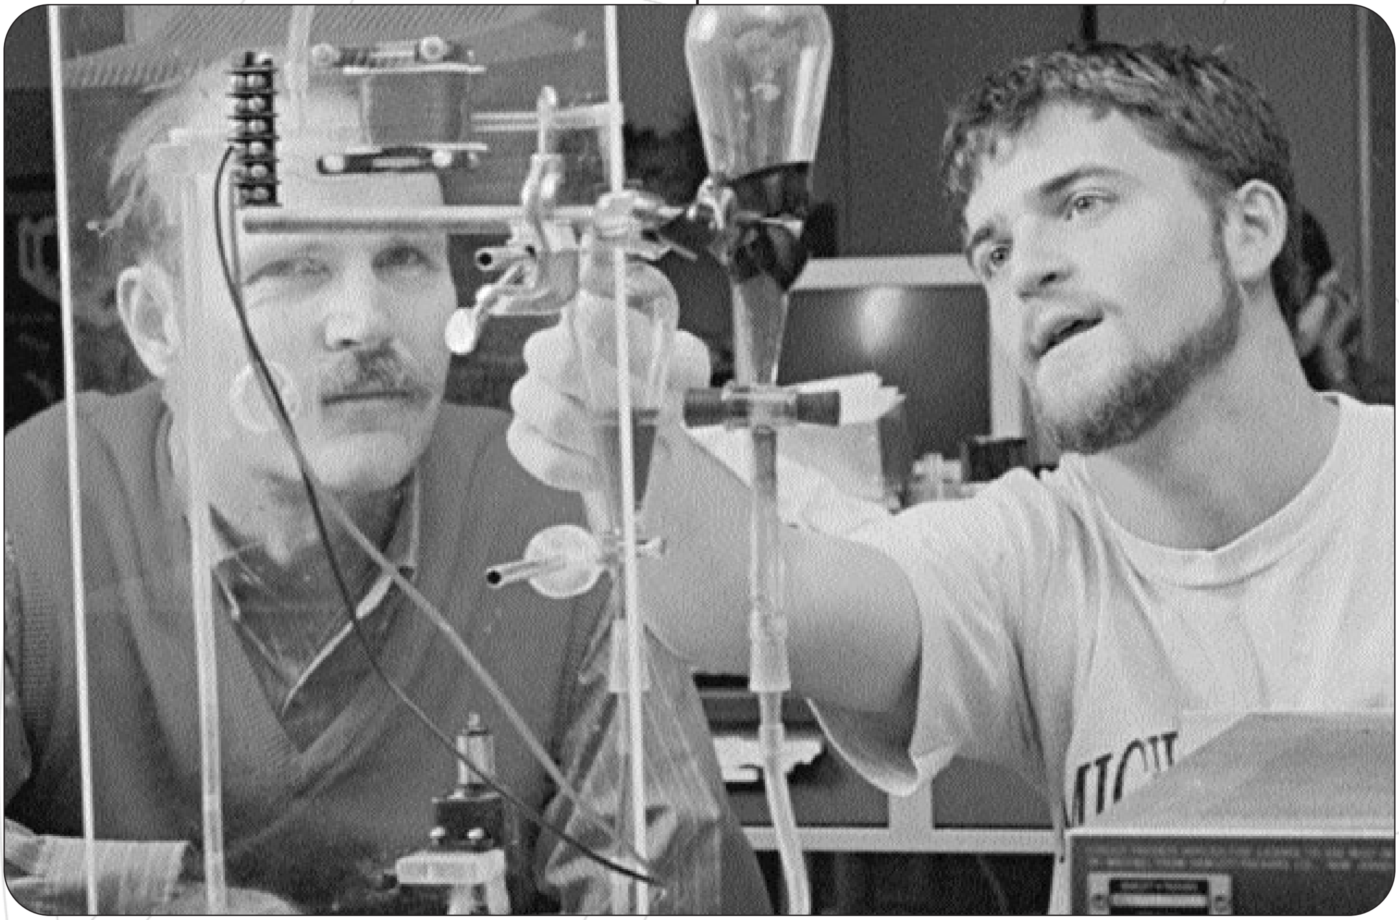
The university's world-renowned research spans from plant biotechnology to nuclear physics to K-12 education. One reason MSU excels at identifying practical, innovative approaches to emerging needs is its long tradition of multidisciplinary, cross-disciplinary thinking and collaboration. This approach applies not only to the sciences, but also to the arts, humanities, and other disciplines. Breakthrough discoveries include:

- Developing the process used to homogenize milk
- Discovering Cisplatin and Carboplatin, two of the world's leading anti-cancer drugs
- Identifying a gene found in plants that helps them resist extremely cold temperatures
- Introducing and advancing the concept of community policing

GLOBAL PERSPECTIVE

Thinking globally always has been a priority at MSU. The university is recognized in the international community for its work in many areas, including basic human needs, education, international trade, sustainable agriculture, human and animal health and welfare, and the environment.

- In 1956, MSU was the first major university in the United States with a dean of international programs.
- More than 1,000 faculty members are currently involved in international research, teaching, and service projects and programs.
- MSU's Study Abroad program is the largest of any single-campus university in the nation and offers more than 190 programs in more than 60 countries.



A GREAT PLACE TO BE

MSU is among the most beautiful academic settings in the United States. It is adjacent to downtown East Lansing, which bills itself as the "unbeatable combination of small-town atmosphere and cosmopolitan sophistication."

- 5,200-acre campus, including 2,000 acres of existing or planned development
- Culturally rich and diverse
- On-campus performing arts center, art museum, and natural history museum
- Highly competitive intercollegiate athletics program
- Extensive intramural sports program

DEEP ROOTS, WORLD-CLASS STATURE

At its founding in 1855, MSU was an experiment in higher learning, offering an education that was both liberal and practical. That land-grant philosophy still remains central to MSU's mission but has evolved beyond agriculture and engineering to encompass such fields as health, human relations, business, science, fine arts, communication, education, and government.

More than 315,000 alumni worldwide recall the MSU experience with gratitude and pride. The citizens of Michigan look to MSU to educate themselves and their families and to provide problem solving. Leaders throughout the world look to MSU for the values it brings to bear on every situation it addresses in daily life.

Michigan State University is known and appreciated as a place and a community that makes a difference in the world every day by advancing knowledge and transforming lives.

Experience the character and culture that is Greater Lansing – from the historical facades of Old Town to the spirited ambiance of East Lansing; from the quaint shops of Williamston to the historic charm of Mason and the sandstone ledges of Grand Ledge.

As the site of Lansing's first permanent settlement, Old Town was nothing more than a small sawmill along the banks of the Grand River. Since that time, the area has become a cultural hub of art galleries, gift shops and restaurants, which offer an eclectic mix of entertainment options. In recent years, Old Town has undergone a unique transformation as developers worked to combine the historic integrity of the past with the modern conveniences of the present. The Old Town area also hosts a number of community festivals throughout the year including Jazz Fest in August and Octoberfest in mid-October.

The Lansing Lugnuts are Greater Lansing's minor league baseball team. Over 10,000 seats await your arrival at Oldsmobile Park. Plus, throughout the year enjoy many other exciting events including community concerts and night-time movies.

Want to add some culture to your stay? Then experience the Greater Lansing Symphony Orchestra. This professional orchestra has been delighting mid-Michigan residents for over 65 years. The GLSO provides music for the mid-Michigan area including symphonic, chamber, Messiah, Pops, and free Young People's Concerts at the Wharton Center for Performing Arts on the MSU campus in East Lansing. In addition, the GLSO performs at the Fourth of July Celebration at Oldsmobile Park.

Looking to add some family fun? Visit Impression 5 Science Center. This sophisticated hands-on science center is designed so kids of all ages can experience the physical and natural sciences firsthand. The center is housed in a 100-year-old building on the banks of the Grand River. From there, head on over to the Potter Park Zoo. CITY OF EAST LANSING

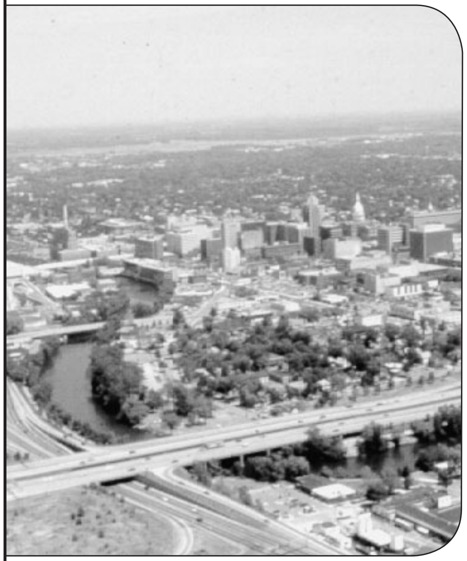
East Lansing's first houses, known as Faculty Row, were built on the college campus in the 1850's, and thereafter the city's history and growth paralleled that of Michigan State University. In those early days the village primarily served the needs of teacher and student. An early village planner was the college's world famous botanist, William James Beal, who, together with mathematician Rolla C. Carpenter, laid out an area just north of campus as a residential tract.

In the new century the rush to expansion boomed, and in 1907 "Collegeville" and adjacent neighborhoods were chartered as East Lansing. Many of the historic homes in the city retain the college gothic flavor of MSU architecture from the first quarter of the century.



The East Lansing Businessman's Association, many of whose members were faculty at the college, was instrumental in the expansion of the town and business district along one edge of the campus. Today this association, after a handful of evolutions, is recognized as the East Lansing Merchants Group, a group that demonstrates its commitment to the city through the many community activities it supports.

The East Lansing School District dates from 1901. Growth of MSU and its faculty resulted in a community with high educational expectations, and East Lansing soon became known for the quality of its public education. As word of the system's excellence spread, the city became increasingly attractive as a place for family life.

East Lansing is now more than eight times larger than at its founding and has a public school system of 10 schools. Its population of more than 50,000 has evolved to include business and professional women and men, families of all configurations and ethnic backgrounds, educators, international residents, politicians, and artists, as well as MSU faculty and students.

The Big Ten Conference began with a meeting of seven Midwest university presidents in January of 1895 in Chicago, gathered together to discuss the regulation and control of university athletics. It is interesting to note that many of the same issues discussed back then are still issues being addressed today at recent NCAA Conventions such issues as academic eligibility, amateurism and safety in competition. The first Conference championship was won by the University of Chicago baseball team in 1896. Wisconsin took the Big Ten's inaugural football title that same year.

Today the Conference sponsors championships in 25 sports, 12 for men and 13 for women. Most of the men's championships began during the first two decades of this century, while women's championships were not officially sanctioned by the Conference until 1981-82. The Big Ten began with seven member institutions - Chicago, Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, Northwestern, Purdue and Wisconsin. Indiana and Iowa joined in 1899 and Ohio State in 1912. The University of Chicago withdrew from membership in 1946 citing its inability to "provide reasonable equality of competition." Michigan State was admitted to membership in 1949 and Penn State was added in 1990.

The first official name of the Conference was the Intercollegiate Conference of Faculty Representatives, and has since been popularly known as the Western or Big Ten Conference. It wasn't until 1987 when the Conference became incorporated that the name was formally changed to the Big Ten Conference.

The Conference's commitment to integrating intercollegiate athletics into the mission of each university has made the Big Ten name and academic prestige practically synonymous.

The office of the commissioner of athletics was created in 1922 "to study athletic problems of the various Western Conference universities and assist in enforcing the eligibility rules which govern Big Ten athletics." Major John L. Griffith was appointed as the first commissioner and served in that position until his death in 1944. Kenneth L. "Tug" Wilson, former director of athletics at Northwestern, served from 1944 until he retired in 1961. Bill Reed, an assistant commissioner since 1951, succeeded Wilson until his death in 1971. Wayne Duke became the fourth Big Ten commissioner in 1971 and retired June 30, 1989. Duke was succeeded by James E. Delany on July 1, 1989. Delany came to the Big Ten following 10 years as Ohio Valley Conference Commissioner.

Delany, 54, is only the fifth commissioner in the history of the Big Ten. He oversees the operation of the Big Ten Conference office and its 24-member staff, housed at the Big Ten Conference office headquarters and meetings center in Park Ridge, Illinois.

MISSION STATEMENT

The Big Ten Conference is an association of 11 world-class universities whose member institutions share a common mission of research, graduate, professional and undergraduate teaching and public service. Intercollegiate athletics has an important place within the mission. Founded in 1896, the Big Ten has sustained a comprehensive set of shared practices and policies that enforce the priority of academics in student-athletes' lives and emphasize the values of integrity, fairness and competitiveness. Big Ten universities provide in excess of $68 million in athletic scholarship aid to more than 8,500 men and women student-athletes who compete for 25 championships, 12 for men and 13 for women. In total, Big Ten Conference institutions sponsor more than 270 athletic programs.

BIG TEN UNIVERSITIES...

- are members of the nation's only conference whose constituency is entirely composed of institutions that are members of the AAU, a prestigious association of major academic and research institutions in the United States and Canada.
- have more than 70 Nobel laureates as faculty, students or researchers.
- enroll students of whom over 41 percent have graduated in the top 10 percent of their high school class, while 74 percent graduated in the top quarter of their class.
- have more than 3,500,000 living alumni and over 320,000 undergraduate students attending Big Ten universities.
- typically receive more than 8,000 employers each year who conduct recruitment visits on Big Ten campuses.
- house on their campuses eight of the nation's 20 largest academic libraries. All of the Conference libraries are interconnected through an online library system (the Virtual Electronic Library).

ATHLETIC PROGRAMS IN THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE...

- have, since 1992, created in excess of 2,000 new opportunities for women student-athletes and established 28 new women's teams.
- had more than 8,500 student-athletes playing on over 270 teams in 2001-02. Those student-athletes received in excess of $68 million in direct financial aid.
- graduate at a rate of 10 percent higher than all Division I student-athletes.
- annually recognized more than 1,400 student-athletes over the past five years who achieved a "B" grade point average or better on the Academic All-Conference teams over the past six years, including a record total of 1,745 student-athletes during the 2000-01 school year.
- have won more than 185 team titles and 1,250 individual titles. In 1999-2000, the Conference celebrated six NCAA team titles (men's soccer, women's volleyball, wrestling, men's basketball, fencing, men's gymnastics), the most for the Big Ten in the last 10 years.
- have claimed 92.3 percent more NCAA team championships in the past six years (1997-98 through 2002-03) than in the six seasons prior (1991-92 through 1996-97) - 25 compared to 13. The most recent six-year total includes 16 in the past four seasons and six national crowns during 1999-2000 alone, the most for the Big Ten in the last decade.
- were all ranked among the top 29 in the country, including a No. 1 honor for Penn State, in a first-of-its-kind analysis by The Sporting News (September 1999) of all 112 Division I-A athletic programs (that play football and men's basketball).
- showcased more than 250 events that were televised nationally, regionally and locally last year, representing over 550 hours of programming.
- are among the national attendance leaders in football, men's and women's basketball, women's volleyball and wrestling. During the 2002-03 season, more than 8.5 million fans attended Big Ten home contests in those sports.

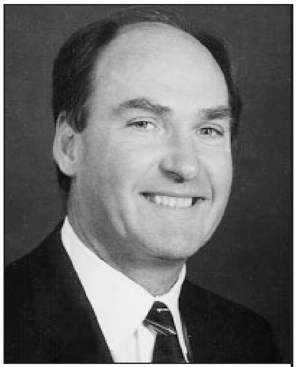
Only the Big Ten's fifth commissioner since its founding in 1896, James E. Delany enters his 15th year in that role. He has led the Big Ten through significant periods of change and growth that have helped the Conference maintain its preeminent position as one of the nation's leaders in providing quality athletic and academic experiences for young people.

A respected national leader, Delany has been a major force in national athletic reform, including increased academic standards, cost containment, increased opportunities for female student-athletes, the restructuring of the NCAA, moving the Association toward a presidential led federated-representative form of governance and, most recently, the examination of men's college basketball.

Some of the accomplishments that the Conference has experienced under Delany's leadership since he arrived in 1989 have included:



Jim Delany
Big Ten Commissioner

- Expansion of the Conference to 11 institutions with the addition of Penn State in June, 1991;
- Increase of Conference bowl tie-ins from one to seven (the Rose, Capital One, Outback, Alamo, Sun, Music City and Motor City Bowls);
- Inclusion in the Bowl Championship Series, pitting the nation's top two football teams at the end of the regular season in a national championship game;
- Negotiation of unmatched football and basketball television agreements with ABC, CBS, ESPN, CSTV and Fox Sports Net that have produced more than 250 television events per year over the last decade, including the establishment of women's basketball and volleyball games of the week;
- Revenue distributions of over $110 million during the 2002-03 academic year from Conference television agreements, postseason bowl games and the NCAA men's basketball championship to its 11 member institutions. These external revenues help provide support to thousands of young men and women to pursue their dreams of higher education;
- Adoption of the Gender Equity Action Plan (GEAP) that spans a 15-year period. This program includes three Phases. The first, Phase I, began in 1992 when the Big Ten became the first Conference to voluntarily adopt participation goals for female student-athletes. The percentage ratio went from approximately 70% males / 30% females to its current student-athlete ratio of 53/47. Since 1992, the Conference has seen a net gain of over 2,000 women's participation opportunities. Phase II, commonly known as "Dream Big," was initiated in the summer of 1998 as a public outreach campaign that encourages young girls in grades K-8th to participate in sports. The program focuses on illustrating to parents, coaches and children the benefits of participating in sports at an early age. Phase III, a marketing campaign launched to support and better promote Conference women's olympic sports, was launched in 2002. The objective of the plan is to create awareness, heighten interest and increase attendance at women's sports regular and post season events;
- Increased depth and competitiveness in football, with nine different Conference teams earning at least a share of the Big Ten title from 1990 through 2000. In addition, seven different programs have played in the Rose Bowl in that time, as the Conference has won seven of its last nine games in Pasadena. In the last nine years, Big Ten football teams have won two national championships and posted three undefeated seasons.
- Continued success in men's basketball, with nine Final Four teams since his arrival, including six over the last five seasons. In women's basketball over the last 14 years, the Big Ten has collected six national semifinal and two championship game appearances, including the first national title in Conference history.
- Unprecedented attendance growth in football and men's and women's basketball, as the Big Ten has set new attendance records in all three sports during his time at the Conference office. In football, nine of the top 10 single-season attendance records have been established during his tenure and the Conference set a record of nearly 5.5 million in total attendance during the 2002 season. In men's basketball, the Big Ten has led the country in attendance in each of the last 27 years including a national record of 2.3 million fans in 2000-01. In women's basketball, the League has surpassed the 600,000 mark in total attendance in each of the last six seasons.
- Formation of men's and women's basketball postseason tournaments and summer foreign tours, as well as Challenge series with various conferences including the ACC, Big 12 and SEC.
- Establishment of new Conference championships or tournaments in seven sports (men's and women's basketball, field hockey, softball, men's and women's soccer and women's rowing) which have resulted in over 1,500 increased participation opportunities at Conference-sponsored events;
- Creation and expansion of a community outreach program, SCORE (Success Comes Out of Reading Everyday), through which the Conference office has partnered with two inner city elementary schools in Chicago to improve reading performance. In nine years, over 4,000 children have participated in this program;
- Establishment of the "Big Ten 9-11 Scholarship Fund". Following the national tragedy on September 11, 2001, the Big Ten Conference, through its intercollegiate athletic department revenues, pledged a $1 million scholarship contribution to assist the families of those affected by the terrorist attacks; and
- Relocation of the Conference office to a site near Chicago's O'Hare Airport that provides a full-service meeting center to accommodate the Conference's 60+ committees and the many academic-related groups of Big Ten faculty and staff that meet. Last year alone, the Big Ten Conference office center hosted over 110 meetings focusing on athletic and academic issues.

The 55-year old Delany is a native of South Orange, N.J. He received his undergraduate degree in political science from the University of North Carolina in 1970 and juris doctorate degree from the University of North Carolina School of Law in 1973. At UNC, Delany was a three-year member of the varsity basketball team, serving as tri-captain in 1970. As a Tar Heel, Delany twice participated in NCAA Final Four competition.

After earning his law degree, Delany served as counsel for the North Carolina Senate Judiciary Committee from 1973 to 1974, and was staff attorney for the North Carolina Justice Department from 1974 to 1975.

Delany's distinguished career in administering intercollegiate athletics began at the NCAA where he was employed as an enforcement representative from 1975-79. For the next decade, he served as commissioner of the Ohio Valley Conference, where he oversaw the growth and enhancement of OVC athletic programs for men and women.

Active in the community, Delany has coached several youth teams and has been associated with Special Olympics and YMCA endeavors at various times.

Delany and his wife, Catherine "Kitty" Fisher Delany, also an attorney, have two sons, Newman, 14 years old and James Chancellor, 11 years old. The Delanys reside in Hinsdale, Illinois.

THE BOWL CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

Starting in 1998, the Bowl Championship Series (BCS) has determined the Division I-A National Champion in football. The BCS, which runs through the 2005 regular season and 2006 bowl season, consists of the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl, FedEx Orange Bowl, Rose Bowl and Nokia Sugar Bowl. Conferences with automatic berths include the Atlantic Coast, Big East, Big Ten, Big 12, Pac-10 and the Southeastern Conferences. A year ago, Ohio State won the 2002 crown with a 31-24 double-overtime victory over Miami in the Fiesta Bowl. The Hurricanes captured the 2001 national title, defeating Nebraska 37-14 in the Rose Bowl. In the BCS's first season in 1998, Tennessee defeated Florida State, 23-16, in the Fiesta Bowl to claim the national title. A year later, it was Florida State's turn as the Seminoles topped Virginia Tech 46-29 in the Sugar Bowl. Oklahoma claimed the 2000 national championship defeating Florida State 13-2 in the FedEx Orange Bowl.

The BCS also notes the importance of regional consideration regarding team selection. Specifically, as participating members of the BCS, the four BCS Bowls will host the following conference champions in the years the national championship game is not played at their site. Regional consideration tie-ins include the ACC or Big East champion in the Orange Bowl, the SEC champion in the Sugar Bowl, the Big Ten and the Pac-10 champion in the Rose Bowl and the Big 12 champion in the Fiesta Bowl.

Should a BCS Bowl's regional tie-in champion be ranked number one or two in the final BCS standings, when such bowl is not hosting the national championship game, the number one or two-ranked team shall move to the national championship game and the Bowl shall select a replacement team from the BCS pool of eligible teams. The pool will consist of any Division IA team that is ranked among the Top 12 in the final BCS standings and has achieved nine wins during the regular season excluding NCAA-exempted contests.

Through a conference revenue sharing plan, the BCS group will distribute over $40 million to non-participating BCS institutions during its 8-year term. Those monies go to Division I-A and I-AA conferences in support of the game of college football. Additionally, the BCS distributes $200,000 per year to the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame.

This coming season, BCS participants will receive between $13.87-17.05 million depending on the conference affiliation of the at-large participants. Should both at-large participants come from outside the BCS conferences – ACC, Big East, Big Ten, Big 12, Pac-10 or SEC – those participants will receive $13.87 million. If one or both at-large selections come from within the original BCS group, the first conference participant shall receive $13.87 million and the second participant from that same conference shall receive a minimum of 4.5 million. The remaining dollars (the difference between $13.87 million and $4.5 million) will be split among the BCS conferences that have just one participant.

Academic, personal, and professional support are essential to college success. At MSU, Student-Athlete Support Services helps student-athletes reach their full potential.

Our philosophy is to offer an academic support program that will assist all student-athletes with the transition to college and integrate with the total university. This all-encompassing support continues throughout the student-athlete's collegiate career, until the day he or she receives a diploma, lands a job, or enters graduate school.

Academic counseling, career exploration, planning and placement, and academic assistance through tutorial programs are just some of the ways we encourage student success.

Being proactive rather than reactive, our staff does not wait for an academic crisis to occur. We gather important background information and build an academic profile on each student-athlete, assessing his or her needs in advance. We also stay informed on the daily progress of each student-athlete.

Freshmen and transfer student-athletes encounter a major transition when making the switch from high school or community college to a university. These students, while adjusting to their new routines, receive extra attention and support.

College is not easy. But with hard work and dedication from both the student-athlete and the support staff, the student-athlete can have a successful college experience.

There are a total of eight full-time academic coordinators and two full-time learning specialists on staff to assist in and work with the following:

- Priority registration
- Academic progress meetings
- Monitoring grades
- Weekly meetings with freshmen
- Conduct eligibility meetings
- College advisors
- In registration and degree completion requirements
- Learning Specialists Services
- Satellite office for Resource Center for Persons with Disabilities

The Clara Bell Smith Academic Center is a 31,000 square foot academic facility that was funded by private donations. Amenities include:

- Structured study area
- Quiet study areas
- Computerized check-in system
- Ten individual meeting rooms
- TV/VCR with access to university's cable station
- Two staffed computer labs
- 60 computers
- Four classrooms
- All rooms and desks equipped with Internet access

Spartan Stadium is in its 80th season as home to Michigan State football. Since its opening in 1923, Michigan State has won nearly 70 percent of its games played in Spartan Stadium.

Natural grass returned to Spartan Stadium in 2002 after a 33-year absence, with the installation of a modular field. The new playing surface, planted in May of 2001 at MSU's Hancock Turfgrass Research Center, is comprised of a blend of nine varieties of Kentucky bluegrass. The original switch from natural grass to artificial turf came in time for the 1969 season.

The current listed capacity (72,027) has been surpassed on 128 occasions, with the top draw being the 80,401 who witnessed the Notre Dame game on Sept. 22, 1990. Michigan State has played before a sellout crowd in 34 of its last 39 home games, including the last 26 in a row. The Spartans have ranked among the NCAA's top 20 in attendance each of the last 47 seasons, including 19th in 2002, averaging 73,942.

Michigan State fans purchased an all-time record 61,479 football season tickets in 2000. Spartan football season-ticket sales have topped the 60,000 mark three of the last four years.

A series of projects paralleling the Spartans' rise to national football prominence enlarged the steel-and-concrete facility from its original 14,000 seats in 1923 to its present size in 1957.

The first came in 1935, the year in which the stadium was officially named Macklin Field, boosting the capacity to 26,000. The 1948 enlargement raised the total to 51,000.

After 9,000 new seats upped the capacity to 60,000 in 1956, the upper decks were added to the east and west stands in 1957, bringing the capacity to 76,000. It also became Spartan Stadium that year. Renovations during the summer of 1994 improved sightlines and comfort for fans, while reducing the capacity to its current 72,027.

Prior to the 1998 season, a Mitsubishi Diamond Vision was installed in the south end zone and a new scoreboard and black and white message board were added to the north end zone. The CRT video display measures 21 feet x 27 feet and it is operated from a digital production control room in Spartan Stadium. The video display board shows live game action, replays and special features. In addition, a concert-quality 50,000-watt sound system was installed.

In 1998, Spartan Stadium celebrated its 75th anniversary plus it reached another milestone that season when it played host to its 400th game, a 29-5 MSU victory over Northwestern on Oct. 31.

On Oct. 6, 2001, Spartan Stadium added another chapter to its storied history as a world-record crowd of 74,554 attended the MSU-Michigan outdoor hockey game.

Michigan State has compiled a 291-124-13 record (.695) since taking up residency in Spartan Stadium in 1923. The Spartans have gone undefeated at home 16 times since the stadium opened, including a perfect 6-0 mark in 1999. It marked MSU's first undefeated home record since 1966 (5-0-1) and its first unbeaten and untied home slate since 1965 (5-0-0).

In addition, Michigan State has suffered only one home loss during a season 27 times. Only eight times in the history of the stadium have the Spartans experienced a losing record at home.

Michigan State's longest home winning streak is 19 games from Oct. 14, 1950, through Nov. 21, 1953.

Big crowds at home football games became the rule for MSU starting in 1948 when Spartan Stadium was expanded to seat 51,000 and Biggie Munn-coached teams began to attract national attention. The home average attendance in 1948 was 38,380 and the figures have climbed steadily. Michigan State has ranked among the NCAA's top 20 in attendance each of the last 47 seasons. Since 1955, MSU has finished as high as second on four occasions, third five times and fourth three times. Averages and rankings for the last 47 years are shown in the table to the right:

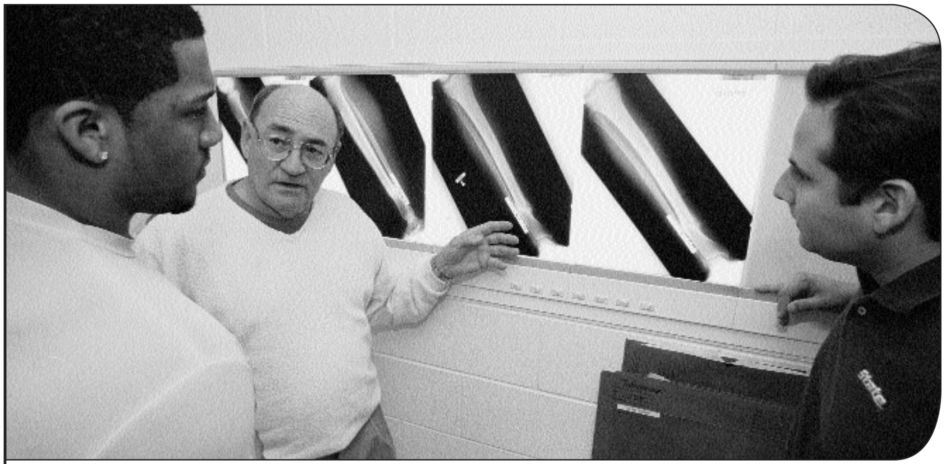
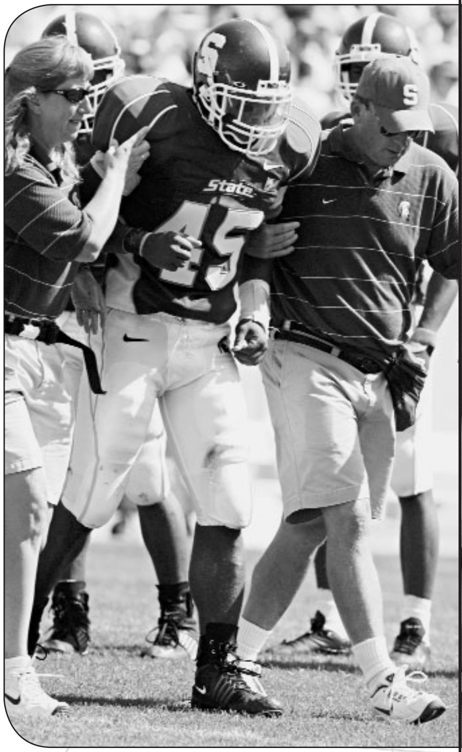
Injuries are a part of sports - they come with the touchdowns and big tackles. Dealing with athletic injuries falls into the capable hands of the MSU Sports Medicine staff.

Located in the Duffy Daugherty Football Building, the Sports Medicine staff is comprised of a team of surgeons, doctors, certified athletic trainers and a cast of students who aspire to be the athletic trainers of the future.

The philosophy of the Sports Medicine staff is two-fold: to help prevent injuries as much as possible through effective preventative programs, and to facilitate an effective rehabilitation program after an injury. In all cases, the ultimate well-being of each individual is considered the top priority.





MICHIGAN STATE SPARTANS

Located across the street from Spartan Stadium, the Duffy Daugherty Football Building houses the coaching staff offices, position meeting rooms, weight room, locker room, training room, equipment room, video room and classrooms. The complex also features an 86,000-square-foot indoor practice facility.

In June of 2002, AstroPlay, a new concept in synthetic turf, was installed in the indoor practice facility. The $310,000 surface is grass-like from concept to performance. Unlike previous generations of artificial turf, AstroPlay is not abrasive. The grass-like, polyethylene fiber matrix is filled with rubber granules.

The 33,000-square-foot Daugherty Building underwent a major overhaul prior to the 1997 football season. The new construction added 17,000-square-feet to the complex, now more than double its original size from its opening in 1979. Financing for the $5 million construction and renovation project was provided entirely by Stadium Club seating in Spartan Stadium.

The new amenities included state-of-the-art weight, training and locker rooms. The 9,000-square-foot weight room ranks among the largest in the Big Ten. The room is adorned with murals, 12 feet high and 24 feet wide, featuring football program highlights.

The training room features a hydrotherapy station and a treadmill with suspension equipment, which allows student-athletes to rehab with reduced stress on their joints. The training room also includes cold-pool spas and various other therapy equipment and modalities.

The locker room houses wooden lockers so big that they had to be assembled on site. The Daugherty Building even includes a players' lounge, complete with a pool table and big-screen television.

Offense Dominates Third Spring Football Scrimmage

Drew Stanton completes 16-of-23 throws for 117 yards and a touchdown.

EAST LANSING, Mich. - With temperatures in the low-50s, Michigan State first-year head football coach John L. Smith sent his team through an 81-play "controlled" scrimmage in Spartan Stadium Saturday, April 12 to conclude the third week of spring practice.

"For the most part, the offense controlled the scrimmage today," Smith said. "After the way the defense had dominated practice this week, this was something the offense needed to do. The offense moved the ball consistently today and put points on the scoreboard.

"The defense didn't play with the same emotion that it had during the week. It lost focus at times because the offense showed some new formations today and some of the proper adjustments weren't made. I'm a little disappointed by our defensive effort, but I'm certainly not discouraged.

"The biggest positive I've seen this spring is attitude. We're not going to win games this season because we're more talented than our opponents, but we're going to win games with our attitude. We have a foundation of belief that we're going to build upon."

Drew Stanton (6-3, 225, R-Fr.) took the majority of snaps with the first-team offense and completed 16-of-23 throws for 117 yards and a touchdown. Stanton hit five-of-seven passes for 35 yards on the opening series that resulted in Dave Rayner's (6-2, 208, Jr.) 48-yard field goal.

Stanton capped an 11-play, 66-yard drive with a 13-yard TD strike to Aaron Alexander (6-5, 198, So.) in the right corner of the end zone. His 12-yard completion to Jerramy Scott (5-10, 185, R-Fr.) on third-and-7 kept the drive alive. Stanton completed his last five attempts of the drive for 44 yards.

"It was great to get into Spartan Stadium today," Stanton said. "The offense came ready to play today and really dictated the tempo. We had good balance, running and throwing the football. I felt comfortable out there today and I was pleased with our overall execution."

Agim Shabaj had four receptions for 79 yards in Saturday's scrimmage in Spartan Stadium.

It also is difficult to match Michigan State's print media coverage. Three of the nation's top 100 newspapers, based upon daily circulation, assign writers and columnists to cover the Spartan football beat, including the Detroit Free Press (No. 19), The Detroit News (No. 41) and The Grand Rapids Press (No. 81).

Weekly press conferences are held on campus, so that the media can get its fill of Spartan notes and quotes. Nearly 300 press credentials are issued to newspaper and magazine writers plus television and radio personalities on Spartan game days.

Fans with access to the internet keep up to date with Spartan football by visiting the official Michigan State athletics web site at www.msuspartans.com. Spartans Online features a wealth of information on MSU football, including game results and stats, media guide contents, weekly press releases, player features, photo galleries and video highlight clips plus live radio broadcasts and live in-game statistics. The web site averaged 1.6 million page views per month during the 2002 football season, including nearly 200,000 unique visitors per month.

SEE A DIFFERENT GAME

Family life can be complex. So can football. But the clear vision of Michigan State's CHARLES ROGERS makes success on and off the field simple for the nation's best player.

By Steve Greenberg Photos by Albert Dickson

Devote yourself in full every day to your job or your schoolwork, then get your rear end back to this house and devote yourself in full to your family. Adults will be respected here; children will be supervised. You want to play football? It better not get in the way of your chores. You want to run around at night? Then you'd better be a man and handle your business.

Inside the home of Benjamin Rogers—son of a minister, grandson of a minister, himself a laborer for General Motors in the hard-edged, industrial town of Saginaw, Mich.—the old saws whirred. Despite that, and because of it, here a superstar was born.

Ask one of the people who raised him, ask his high school coach, ask his current coaches and teammates at Michigan State in nearby East Lansing—they'll all say Charles Rogers is as humble and level-headed as a kid from Saginaw with the keys to wealth and fame possibly could be. Rogers is the best player in college football, and next year or the year after—bet on the former—he'll be one of the first players selected in the NFL draft. "And it won't change him," says his uncle Ronnie Rogers. "He'll handle it well because he knows how to face whatever challenge arises. He's already faced a lot of them."

As a wide receiver with great size (6-4, 205) and speed (4.25 seconds in the 40-yard dash), excellent hands and an unmatched ability to adjust to a ball in the air, Rogers is too much to handle for any defender he'll face all year. Not counting his performance in last season's Silicon Valley Bowl—which he dominated with 10 catches for 270 yards and two scores—Rogers has caught at least one touchdown pass in 11 straight games. With one this Saturday against Notre Dame—which MSU has beaten five years running—he'll tie the NCAA Division I-A record shared by former Michigan player Desmond Howard and former Marshall star Randy Moss. One won a Heisman Trophy for the Wolverines, the Spartans' sworn enemies. The other merely is the most gifted wide receiver alive.

Years ago, Charlie Rogers was a boy in need of male guidance. High school would be starting soon, and his single mother, Cathy, who worked nights, didn't want her only child to be alone at home. So she sent him a mile or so down the road to live with her father, Benjamin. He and son Ronnie, an industrial electrician who always had looked out for Charlie, now had their mitts on him every day. They would teach him to be a Rogers man, which means, in Ronnie's plain speech, "We're homebodies who take care of our responsibilities in every aspect of life."

But Charlie didn't come straight home from school every afternoon. By his junior year, he was a record-setting receiver and a state sprint champion. But he also was a father (to Charnae; his second child, Charvez, came two years later). In his first year at Michigan State, the kid who had been wanted by Michigan, Florida State, Tennessee and UCLA was practicing with the scout unit of a team that would

Inside the playbook

Michigan State offensive coordinator Morris Watts has several favorite ways to use Charles Rogers' many talents to stretch defenses and create big plays.

Formation: empty spread

Rogers' job: Make a double move and go deep.

Watts' philosophy: "We want to be as unpredictable as we can be with where he lines up, so we might put him in motion to get to any of the five receiver spots. If they're in matchup coverage on him and he moves his guy around, then puts a double move on him and gets him a little turned around, he'll make a big play because he can adjust to a ball so well."

Formation: pro set

Rogers' job: Turn across the middle if the defense sloughs off, but take it deep if the safety jumps the play.

Watts' philosophy: "Once they start jumping him, you've got to take advantage of his acceleration—I haven't seen many guys who can accelerate like he can. And you don't have to worry about overthrowing him. When you think you've overthrown him, you're wrong. He'll go get the ball."

Formation: one-back spread

Rogers' job: Catch it short and bust it long.

Watts' philosophy: "Sometimes, the defense just isn't going to let you take deep shots, so try to get 'em with the catch-and-run. Besides, if he gets enough yards after the catch, they'll start moving back up in coverage." —S.G.

TOTAL CONDITIONING APPROACH

"Total Conditioning" best describes the ultimate goal of the Spartan Strength and Conditioning Program under the direction of Coach Ken Mannie. The year-round approach adhered to by the Spartans addresses all of the development, speed and power improvement, flexibility and cardiorespiratory conditioning.

Michigan State football players train in an aggressive and intense manner with a high priority placed on steady progression. The weight room atmosphere emphasizes a championship work ethic, proper instruction and supervision, and safe, proven exercise techniques.

Attention is also given to the educational process regarding dietary considerations and healthy life-style habits that will benefit the players far beyond their playing days.

PRESIDENT PETER McPHERSON

A top university with a global perspective…an undergraduate experience that can serve the needs of excellent students… a place where research and outreach solve tomorrow's problems today. That is President Peter McPherson's vision for Michigan State University.

McPherson took that vision and his wealth of experience to the Middle East, when last May he was tapped by President George W. Bush to be a part of the president's team to re-build Iraq. McPherson was named financial coordinator for the Office of Reconstruction and Humanitarian Assistance (ORHA) – the principal financial and economic policy adviser to the ORHA. McPherson was granted a 130-day unpaid leave by the university Board of Trustees.

"The mission of land-grant schools like MSU is to share the knowledge and expertise generated inside its labs, classrooms and faculty offices," wrote Detroit News business columnist Daniel Howes on McPherson's work in Iraq. "I think they call that practicing what you preach."

His challenges ranged from restarting the country's banks to debt-relief negotiations to paying civil servants' salaries.

"There is a close relationship between economic freedom and political freedom," McPherson noted.

Since he was named MSU's 19th president 10 years ago, McPherson has worked with the Board of Trustees, faculty, staff, and students of the university to ensure that it remains affordable and accessible to students from all walks of life.

Under his guidance, MSU:

- annually sends the largest number of students to study abroad from any single campus in the United States. In making study abroad a normal and integrated part of the undergraduate experience, the university has added almost 60 new programs in the past five years, ranging from a few weeks to a year, including programs in China, Hungary, India, and the Czech Republic — in all, MSU offers 190 programs in 60 countries. The goal: study abroad experience for as many students as possible, including programs that in some cases cost no more than a semester on campus. How popular is it? MSU student enrollment in study abroad programs more than doubled from 776 in 1994-95 to 1,698 in 1999-2000 and is still growing.
- has undertaken a building project that will integrate a variety of science initiatives at the university and serve the public beyond the campus borders as well. The $93 million Biomedical and Physical Sciences Building, which opened in the spring of 2002, places MSU's world-class research in a first-class facility that is a hub of research, education, and technology – and the jewel of the campus science and research complex. Connected via tunnel to the Chemistry and Biochemistry buildings, and near the National Superconducting Cyclotron Lab and the new National Center for Food Safety and Toxicology, the building's high-tech classrooms, offices, laboratories, libraries, and lecture halls allow easy cross-disciplinary partnerships.
- continues its emphasis on excellence in undergraduate education. McPherson himself has joined faculty in teaching in the innovative freshman seminar series; his focus is on foreign policy. The university also has expanded its living-and-learning programs, which group students with the same academic interests together in residence halls so that they can learn from each other as well as from their faculty.
- focuses on research opportunities for undergraduate students. More MSU undergraduates than ever now join faculty in important research projects, adding a new dimension to their undergraduate experience. Each spring, some of the best are featured at a campuswide Undergraduate Research and Arts Forum, showing a wide range of expertise, from health and food safety to engineering and agriculture.
- has expanded the opportunities available through MSU's unique affiliation with the Detroit College of Law. For example, the law college and the university jointly offer a JD/MBA degree that can be completed in less time than traditional programs.
- continues to recruit some of the most academically talented incoming students in the nation. For example, the 20 Alumni Distinguished Scholars and University Distinguished Scholars named in 2002 have a cumulative grade-point average of 4.14 on a 4.0 scale, and their average ACT and SAT scores were 34 of a possible 36 and 1532 of a possible 1600, respectively.
- has increased gifts to the university per year from $50 million to more than $200 million and has increased research dollars to nearly $300 million per year.

McPherson, one of 25 members of a Kellogg Commission national committee that has made recommendations about the future of public higher education institutions, has served as a true steward of the land-grant tradition and philosophy. With the formulation of the university's six "Guiding Principles," he helped establish a framework for balancing MSU's teaching, research, and outreach roles. He learned firsthand of the importance of the land-grant university; born and raised on a family-owned farm in west Michigan, he worked his way through MSU and earned a bachelor of arts degree in political science in 1963.

His career prior to returning to MSU included being managing partner of the Washington, D.C., office of a large Midwest law firm and serving as administrator of the Agency for International Development (AID), deputy secretary of the U.S. Treasury Department, and group executive vice president of the San Francisco-based Bank of America.

At AID in the 1980s, he led the U.S. response to Africa's Great Famine. He now serves as co-chairperson of the Partnership to Cut Hunger in Africa. It includes research to develop higher yielding crops, ways to get information about new techniques to rural areas, and solutions to problems that threaten development such as poor roads and economic policies.

McPherson has been appointed by President George W. Bush to chair the Board of International Food and Agriculture Development. Additionally, he chairs the Advisory Board to the Secretary of Energy and is a director of Dow Jones and Company, the publisher of The Wall Street Journal.

His ties to MSU go back two generations. McPherson's parents were MSU graduates, as are all seven of his brothers and sisters and numerous nieces and nephews. His grandfather, then a member of the university's governing board, nominated John Hannah to the presidency of MSU in 1941.

President McPherson is married to Joanne McPherson, who, as first lady of MSU, has taken a leading role in establishing MSU Safe Place, a program to protect and assist in meeting the needs of victims of domestic violence. Under her leadership, MSU Safe Place also established a corporate education training program designed to assist employers and employees with issues of domestic violence.

She has been honored by the Capital Area Family Violence Coordinating Council for her contributions to domestic violence education, prevention, and treatment. The campus shelter — the first of its kind in the nation — received national accolades, and other universities have since launched programs to deal with the problems of domestic violence on campus. She continues to serve on the Safe Place advisory board.

In addition, Joanne McPherson is a leader in a campuswide initiative to increase awareness among students of the problems inherent in the illegal use and abuse of alcohol. She is the co-chair for the MSU Sesquicentennial planning committee and also is a driving force behind MSU's renewed effort to expand and improve on its traditional Homecoming activities. She serves on the Wharton Center for Performing Arts advisory council, is a member of the Potter Park Zoological Society, and received an Honorary Alumnae Award from the MSU Alumni Association National Board.

Ron Mason was introduced as the 16th athletics director in Michigan State history on Jan. 28, 2002, and assumed the leadership of the 25-sport department on July 1, 2002. Prior to moving into an administrative role, Mason spent 36 years behind the bench during which he established himself as the winningest coach in college hockey history.

"We were looking for an athletics director and we got a legend," said Michigan State President Peter McPherson upon naming Mason as the school's athletics director. "It became clear to us all that the candidate who best fit all of our requirements – and even more – was Ron Mason. The fact that he is the winningest coach in the history of his sport was a further verification of his superb leadership and management abilities."

A National Championship coach in 1986, Mason oversees a department where 17 of the 25 sports were represented at the 2002-03 NCAA Championships, including the field hockey team which advanced to the Final Four for the first time in school history. In addition, the men's basketball team moved on to the Elite Eight for the fourth time in the last five years and the women's basketball and softball teams made the NCAA Tournament for the first time since the 1997 and 1999 seasons, respectively. Michigan State finished 26th in the Sears Cup Standings, ranking sixth among Big Ten Conference universities.

Mason finished his 36-year coaching career with a record of 924-380-83. In 23 years at Michigan State, he posted a 635-270-69 mark. He is the only coach in college hockey history with more than 750 victories. His career highlights include an NCAA Championship at Michigan State in 1986 and an NAIA Championship with Lake Superior State in 1972. He led MSU to 17 CCHA regular-season and playoff titles and guided 23 teams to the NCAA Tournament, an all-time record. In addition, he coached 34 All-Americans and 46 former Spartans who played in the National Hockey League.

In 1966, Mason began his coaching career as the first head coach at Lake Superior State where he also served as assistant athletics director. He guided the Lakers to five NAIA Tournament appearances, including the 1972 National Championship. Three of his other teams finished as NAIA runners-up.

In 1973, he moved on to Bowling Green, establishing the Falcons as a national hockey power. In six seasons, he led Bowling Green to three CCHA regular-season titles (1976, 1978, 1979) and three playoff championships (1977, 1978, 1979). His 1977-78 squad finished third in the NCAA Tournament with an impressive 31-8 record. The following season, his BGSU squad established a then-national record with 37 wins.

Mason's Michigan State career began with the 1979-80 season when he replaced the legendary Amo Bessone. The seven-time CCHA Coach of the Year led Michigan State to league regular-season championships in 1985, 1986, 1989, 1990, 1998, 1999 and 2001. He also guided the Spartans to CCHA playoff crowns in 1982, 1983, 1984, 1985, 1987, 1989, 1990, 1998, 2000 and 2001. In 2001, the CCHA honored Mason by renaming the CCHA playoff trophy – The Mason Cup – in his honor due to his development of the league and his success behind the bench.

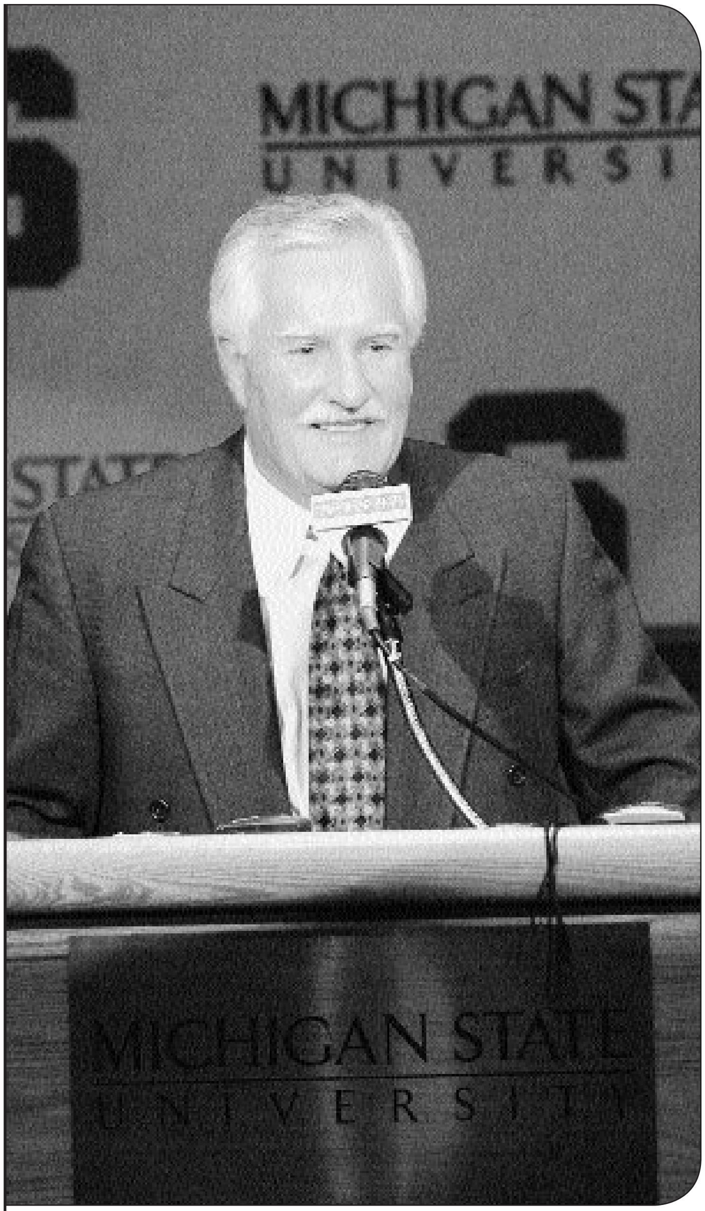
Among his Spartan coaching highlights are on March 12, 1993, Mason reached a personal milestone as MSU defeated Kent, 6-5, making him the winningest U.S. college hockey coach. One season later on March 18, 1994, a win over Bowling Green established him as the winningest college hockey coach in North America. In 2001-02, Mason's final campaign as the Spartan coach, he recorded his unprecedented 900th-win as a college hockey coach with a victory over Ferris State (Oct. 20, 2001).

Mason also had a first-hand perspective on MSU's biggest athletic endeavor to date, as he coached his Spartans against Michigan in front of a world-record crowd of 74,554 in an outdoor hockey game at Spartan Stadium (Oct. 6, 2001).

Mason coached MSU's only two Hobey Baker Award winners – Kip Miller in 1990 and Ryan Miller in 2001. He also coached the first college player – Joe Murphy – to be taken first overall in the NHL Draft in 1986 by the Detroit Red Wings.

Mason served on the American Hockey Association Board of Directors from 1973 to 1977 and is a former member of the NCAA Ice Hockey Rules Committee. He currently is a member of the NCAA Ice Hockey Committee.

He is active in a number of local organizations and charities. He is very involved with Sparrow Hospital in Lansing, where he recently completed a four-year term on the Sparrow Foundation Board and has set up the Ron Mason Fund for Pediatric Rehabilitation, which has raised over $300,000. He also served as the honorary chairperson for the Children's Miracle Network which has raised more than $11 million over 14 years, including more than $1.6 million in 2003 and has worked with the Coaches For Kids campaign, which has raised over $2 million in the last four years for a pediatrics emergency room at Sparrow Hospital. In addition, he is on the committee for the broomball game for the Legal Eagles, which benefits the Boys and Girls Club of Lansing and spent several years on the Lansing Safety Council.



Mason received his bachelor's degree from St. Lawrence in 1964, where he lettered in hockey for three years. In 1965, he received his master's from Pittsburgh. He was presented with an honorary doctorate from Michigan State in the spring of 2001.

For all his career accomplishments, Mason has been inducted into the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame (1994), Lake Superior Sports Hall of Fame (1996) and St. Lawrence Sports Hall of Fame (1999). In addition, the American Hockey Coaches Association honored him with the John MacInnes Award for his outstanding contributions to hockey in the spring of 2003.

Born Jan. 14, 1940, in Blyth, Ont., Mason and his wife, Marion, have two daughters, Tracey and Cindy. An avid fisherman, Mason also enjoys golfing.

THE NICKNAME

In 1926, Michigan State's first southern baseball training tour provided the setting for the birth of the "Spartan" nickname.

It all came about when a Lansing sportswriter imposed the silent treatment on a contest-winning nickname and substituted his own choice, the name that has lasted through the years.

In 1925, Michigan State College replaced the name Michigan Agricultural College. The college sponsored a contest to select a nickname to replace "Aggies" and picked "The Michigan Staters."

George S. Alderton, then sports editor of the Lansing State Journal, decided the name was too cumbersome for newspaper writing and vowed to find a better one.

Alderton contacted Jim Hasselman of Information Services to see if entries still remained from the contest. When informed that they still existed, Alderton ran across the entry name of "Spartans" and then decided that was the choice. Unfortunately, Alderton forgot to write down who submitted that particular entry, so that part of the story remains a mystery.

Rewriting game accounts supplied by Perry Fremont, a catcher on the squad, Alderton first used the name sparingly and then ventured into the headlines with it. (Incidentally, after two days of spelling the name incorrectly with an "o," Mr. Alderton changed it to Spartan on a tip from a close friend.) Dale Stafford, a sports writer for the Lansing Capitol News, a rival of the State Journal, picked up the name for his paper after a couple of days. Alderton called Stafford and suggested that he might want to join the Spartan parade and he did.

As Mr. Alderton explains: "No student, alumnus or college official had called up the editor to complain about our audacity in giving the old school a new name, so we ventured into headlines with it. Happily for the experiment, the name took. It began appearing in other newspapers and when the student publication used it, that clinched it."

SPARTY

Standing at the entrance way to Michigan State's athletic establishment is "The Spartan," a huge statue which symbolizes the university's athletic teams.

"The Spartan" was designed and produced by Leonard D. Jungwirth of the art department, and dedicated in June of 1945. It stands ten feet-six inches, and is mounted on a brick-and-concrete base five feet-four inches high. The statue weighs three tons and is one of the largest free standing ceramic figures in the world.

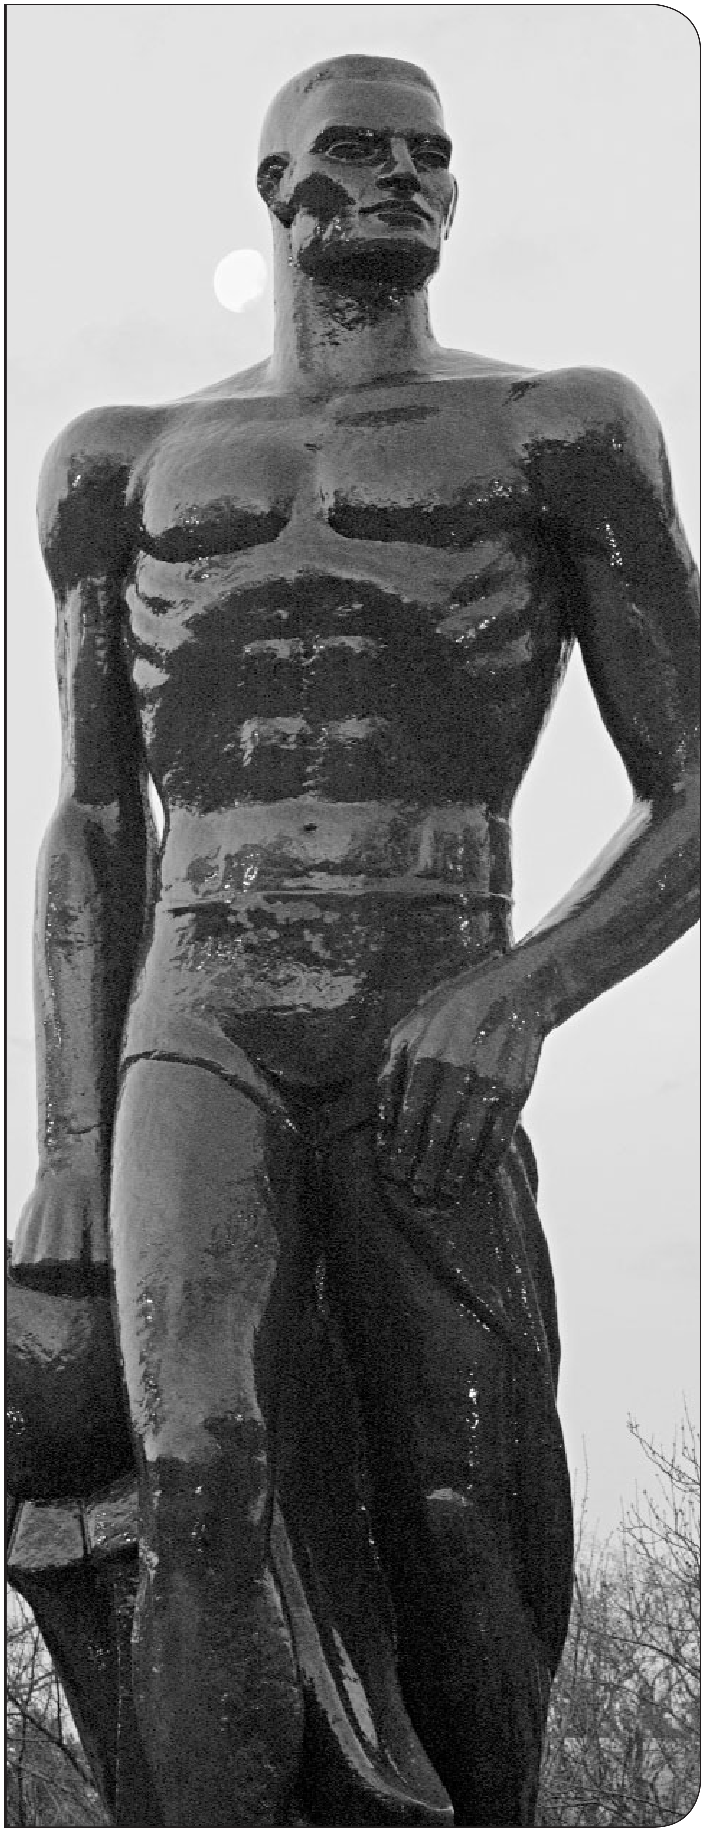
Figures representing the 12 sports then included in the varsity program are incised on the base of the statue.

Popularly known as "Sparty," the statue is one of the favorite photo subjects of visitors to the campus.

GREEN & WHITE

Details are sketchy as to when Michigan State athletic teams officially began using the school colors green and white. But records of the Athletic Association of the then Michigan Agricultural College show that on April 11, 1899, the organization took steps toward adoption of a green monogram, "to be worn only by athletes who subsequently take part in intercollegiate events."

It is generally thought the colors came into wide use with the arrival in 1903 of Chester L. Brewer as the school's first full-time director of athletics. Brewer also coached the Spartan football, basketball, baseball and track teams, the only varsity units in existence at the time.



SPARTY MASCOT

The seven-foot costume weighs in at 30 pounds, allowing enough flexibility for playful gestures and animation. Made of hi-tech materials, including a vinyl chest plate and fiberglass molds like the ones used for making Muppets, Sparty is a far cry from the many papier-mache heads that have popped up since the 1950's, mostly from fraternity efforts. The first official one apparently debuted in 1955 courtesy of Theta Xi.

Other versions were introduced from time to time. In 1984, Sigma Phi Epsilon introduced the first "gruff" head—sporting the unshaven look that still adorns many sweatshirts and jackets.

By contrast, the current Sparty costume is a state-of-the-art, full-bodied uniform that costs $12,000.

Today five students—their identities kept private—take turns being Sparty with one of three costumes. Because of the costume size, Sparty aspirants must be between 5-10 and 6-2 in height. Candidates who fit the physical needs are chosen after a hands-on process that includes tryouts and interviews.

The Sparty Mascot Program is run and funded by the Student Alumni Foundation.

Those interested in hiring Sparty can call the Student Alumni Foundation at (517) 355-4458. Those who wish to donate to the Sparty mascot fund can contact University Development at (517) 355-8257. You can also visit the Sparty home page at www.msualum.org/saf/sparty.cfm.

SPARTAN MARCHING BAND

The 300-member Spartan Marching Band, which enters its 133rd season in 2003, is one of the oldest and most recognized university marching bands in the country. The Director of the Spartan Marching Band is John T. Madden, who is in his 15th season leading the group.

The Spartan Marching Band was founded in 1870 as a 10-member student group. All of the original members were Civil War veterans.

The Spartan Marching Band was a military unit connected with the college ROTC for most of its existence. Until 1952, the band members wore military khaki uniforms. When Michigan State began playing Big Ten football in 1952, the band received its first green and white uniforms. Most of the strict military uniform codes are still adhered to today with squad leaders holding routine inspections before every performance.

No flutes or clarinets are used in the Spartan Marching Band, as these instruments are difficult to hear in the large Big Ten stadiums. Instead, tiny E-flat cornets play the high “woodwind-like” parts.

The Spartan Marching Band has entertained five U.S. Presidents: Theodore Roosevelt (1907), Herbert Hoover (1930), Franklin D. Roosevelt (1936), Lyndon Johnson (1965) and Bill Clinton (1996 and 2001).

The Spartan Marching Band has performed at 14 bowl games, including four Rose Bowls (1954, ’56, ’66 and ’88). In addition, the band has made appearances at the 1964 New York World’s Fair, ’84 New Orleans World’s Fair, ’84 World Series in Detroit and ’93 Coca-Cola Bowl in Tokyo, Japan.

The Spartan Marching Band was the 1988 recipient of the Louis Sudler Trophy for collegiate marching bands, administered by the John Philip Sousa Foundation.

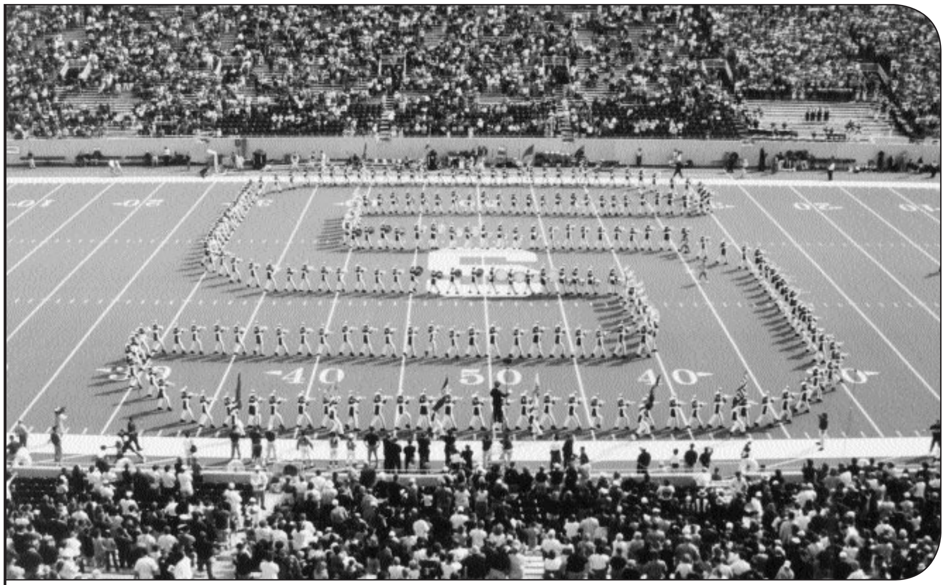
In 1995, ABC Sports selected the Spartan Marching Band to record its theme music for college football.

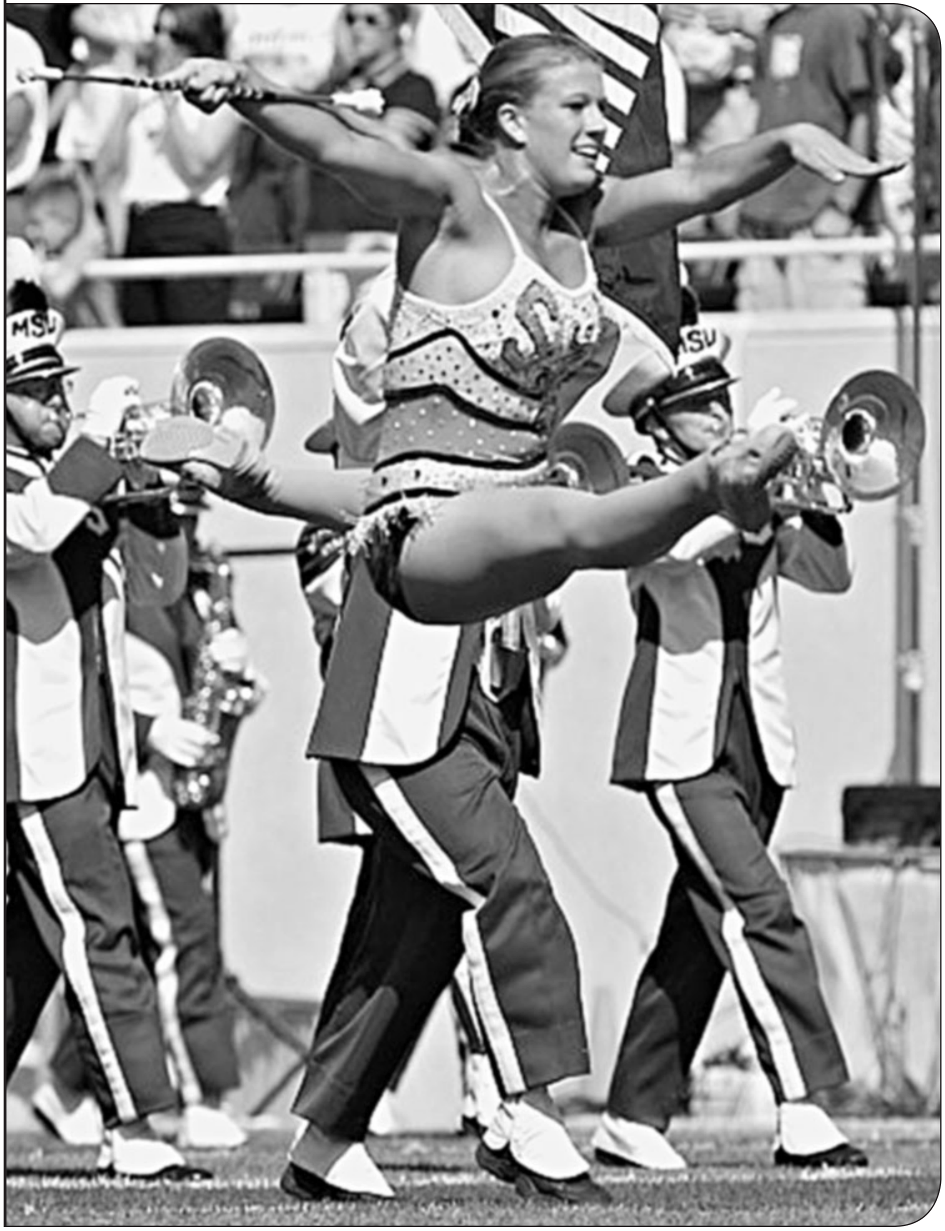
HISTORY OF THE MSU FIGHT SONG

Yellmaster Francis Irving Lankey, a civil engineering major at Michigan Agricultural College, composed the school’s Fight Song in the spring of 1915. His friend Arthur L. Sayles, also a MAC student, wrote most of the words to the Fight Song. The football team’s back-to-back road wins over national powers Michigan and Wisconsin in 1913 inspired Lankey to compose the MAC Fight Song because he felt those two schools had great fight songs. “Lank”, as his friends called him, was a very popular and talented piano player.

Following graduation, he worked for the highway department and later became an instructor for the Army Air Corps. In a volunteer air demonstration in 1919, he crashed while attempting to land. Months after his untimely death, a girlfriend published his song.

Members of the football team sold 770 copies of the song for 50 cents at the 1919 Homecoming pep assembly. When it sold out in less than 30 minutes, everyone knew the Fight Song was a winner. In 1920, the Military Band played the MAC Fight Song at home football games. With slight variations to the original words, like changing Aggie to Spartan and MAC to MSU, it has been played ever since.





SONGS OF MSU

U FIGHT SONG

*On the banks of the Red Cedar,
There's a school that's known to all;
Its specialty is winning,
And those Spartans play good ball;
Spartan teams are never beaten,
All through the game they'll fight;
Fight for the only colors,
Green and White.
Go right through for MSU,
Watch the points keep growing.
Spartan teams are bound to win,
They're fighting with a vim.
Rah! Rah! Rah!
See their team is weakening,
We're going to win this game.
Fight! Fight! Rah! Team, Fight!
Victory for MSU.*

ORIGINAL LYRICS

*On the banks of the Red Cedar,
There's a school that's known to all;
Its specialty is farming,
And those farmers play football;
Aggie teams are never beaten,
All through the game they'll fight;
Fight for the only colors,
Green and White.
Smash right through that line of blue,
Watch the points keep growing.
Aggie teams are bound to win,
They're fighting with a vim.
Rah! Rah! Rah!
See their team is weakening,
We're going to win this game.
Fight! Fight! Rah! Team Fight!
Victory for MSU.*

ALMA MATER

*MSU Shadows
MSU, we love thy shadows
When twilight silence falls,
Flushing deep and softly paling
O'er ivy covered halls;
Beneath the pines we'll gather
To give our faith so true,
Sing our love for Alma Mater
And thy praises MSU.
When from these scenes we wander
And twilight shadows fade,
Our memory still will linger
Where light and shadows played;
In the evening oft we'll gather
And pledge our faith anew,
Sing our love for Alma Mater
And thy praises MSU.*
